The man fatally injured in a motor vehicle accident at Port Ewen Friday morning has been identified as Earl Arthur Strong, 55, of 21 Atkinson street, Rochester, it was reported today by state police and Coroner Michael A. Galletta.

Strong died on his way to Kingston Hospital about 9:30 a. m. Friday after a crash on Route 9W which involved a tractor-trailer, an Esopus town truck and two passenger vehicles, state police said.

A verdict of accidental death has been given by Coroner Galletta. An autopsy disclosed Strong suffered a fractured skull, multiple contusions and abrasions, fractured ribs and a fractured left leg.

Strong's wife, Novra, 57, was admitted to the hospital. Her condition today was reported as "apparently fair."

Grain Stores May Remove Threat of Shortages in U. S.

Floods, Drouth Convert Problem to Benefit; Corn Surplus Ends Biggest Worry

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Big government wheat and corn stores may make the difference this year between food shortages and plenty.

The grains were bought in previous bumper years under a price support program. Some officials had wondered what they were ever going to do with the one-time surpluses.

But an Agriculture Department report yesterday indicated that floods in some places and drouth in others had converted a potential problem to a benefit.

The most serious shortages—without the stored grains—would have been felt in livestock feed grains, especially corn. While a somewhat larger crop of corn than last year was forecast, the volume would not be large enough to maintain the current high level of production of meat, dairy and poultry products.

Will Make Up Deficit
But a reserve of about 750,000,000 bushels of corn will make up the deficit in this year's crop, now forecast at 3,207,000,000 bushels. The government had set a goal of 3,375,000,000 bushels.

Similarly with wheat. A reserve of about 375,000,000 bushels will give the nation an ample supply of the bread grain despite the fact this year's crop is indicated to be the first one below a billion bushels since 1943. The wheat crop was put at 998,000,000 bushels compared with 1,026,000,000 last year.

Record crops were forecast for hay, rice and grapes, while soybeans and tobacco were indicated to be near-record. Others much larger than average include cotton, grain sorghum, sugar cane and hops.

Among crops below average are wheat, barley, rye, flaxseed, dry beans, peanuts, potatoes, sweet potatoes, peaches, plums and prunes.

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 74 additional battle casualties in Korea. A new list (No. 373) reported six killed, 54 wounded, 10 missing in action and four injured in combat zone accidents.

Screening Boards Hope to Complete Their Cadet Dismissal Plans Over Week-end

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Additional supporters, including a lawyer and some West Point officials, have been won to appeals that honorable discharges be granted a number of the 90 cadets accused of cheating at examinations.

Such dismissals would permit the cadets to leave the military academy without the official stigma implied or contained in other forms of discharge.

The talk of the method of dismissal in many quarters was fast taking the place of debate on whether the cadets should be expelled at all. There were indications that many of the cadets were more anxious to get the honorable discharges than to fight the suspension order.

Exactly what form the dismissals will take, and just how many cadets finally will be affected, may be known in the next few days.

Two screening boards hope to complete examination of individual cases sometime over the week-end.

As the cheating scandal approached its climax, it became apparent in Washington that Congress has definitely decided against an investigation at the Academy.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said today that he saw "no need" for a probe by his group. The House Armed Services Committee had taken a similar stand earlier this week.

The latest honorable discharge demand came yesterday from John McI. Smith, of Harrisburg, Pa., an attorney and retired army colonel, who came here voluntarily to aid one of the accused cadets, Gilbert M. Reich, of Steelton, Pa. Smith said that if necessary he

Three Are Accused In Cortisone Case

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Wall street drug firm president and two other men—accused of trying to sell "cortisone" at a bargain price—waited in jail today while laboratory tests were made to see if they really were marketing the wonder drug.

The three were arrested yesterday, and District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said other arrests may follow.

Hogan ordered tests of a white powder the three represented as cortisone. The district attorney said he "highly doubted" the substance was cortisone.

A thousand grams of this powder, Hogan said, was offered to a detective for $17,600, while the proper market value for the same amount of cortisone is $21,000. The detective, Hogan said, posed as a buyer for an unidentified, cooperating midwestern drug concern during a month-long investigation.

Those arrested were Philip Rauer, 65, president of the Proteins Products, Inc., with Wall street offices; George Shackleford, 55, a New York broker in drugs and foodstuffs; and Edward Meyer, 60, a salesman from Arlington, N. J.

They were charged with conspiracy to commit grand larceny and to violate the sanitary code, violation of the sanitary code by failing to label properly, and offering drugs for sale without proper license.

Each was held in $2,000 bail after their waived examination and requested a General Sessions Court trial.

Border Stations Closed

Berlin, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Soviet-controlled railway administration today closed 30 subway and elevated stations, mostly on the border areas between East and West Berlin, in preparation for big parade of the Communist world youth festival. The parade, billed as the "mightiest peace demonstration ever seen here," will take place down historic Unter Den Linden tomorrow morning.

The Communists say more than 1,000,000 members of the Free German Youth (FJD) will march under banners assailing the West.

His request for honorable discharges was echoed by others close to the academy and by high ranking officers on the campus. Football Coach Earl H. Blaik, who may lose most of his stellar team as a result of the dismissals, made a similar public plea for the cadets on Thursday.

Blaik, a former army officer now on full civilian status, could speak up openly; but their status as army officers prevents other academy personnel from making their views public.

Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, academy superintendent, refused to comment on reports of the honorable discharge sentiment.

Demarest Elected State Legion Head At N.Y. Convention

Other Officers Are Chosen by Veterans and Auxiliary During Session

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—James V. Demarest, a veteran of both world wars, has been elected state commander of the American Legion.

Demarest, 57-year-old New York city advertising man, was chosen unanimously yesterday at the Legion's 33rd annual state convention. He succeeds Dr. Joseph R. Hawn, a Buffalo dentist.

Demarest, a colonel in the army reserves, heads the public relations firm of James V. Demarest & Co., and owns Inkcraft, Inc., both with offices in the Empire State Building.

Legion vice-commanders elected were:

Guy E. Howard of Moores; Ralph E. Marker of Salamanca; William C. Hausler of Wantagh; Fred H. Little of Norwich; and Robert W. Godwin of Monsey.

The American Legion Auxiliary also elected officers at its 31st annual state convention.

Mrs. George W. Carlson of Jamaica, Queens, was unopposed for president. A past New York county chairman, she succeeds Mrs. Harold Taylor of Mineola.

Auxiliary vice-presidents elected were:

Mrs. Leo Carey of Genesee; Mrs. Stanley J. Autenrieth of Newport; and Mrs. Jesse Haley of West Stephentown.

The Legion band competition, postponed last night because of rain, will be held today, when the Legionnaires also will parade up Fifth avenue.

However, the drum and bugle corps, color guard and drill team state competitions were held last night.

The drum and bugle corps competition was captured by Garbarina-Mazarakos Memorial Post No. 1523 of New York city, for the second successive year. The post also holds the national championship in this event.

Second place went to Winnet Post 396 of Geneva, and third place won by the Purple Lancers of Post 1776, Auburn.

In the junior division of the drum and bugle corps competition, first place—also for the second successive year—went to the Syracuse Post. Second place in that event went to William E. Irwin Post No. 774 of the Bronx.

The color guard competition was won by the Garbarina-Mazarakos Post.

The drill team competition was won by the group from Salamanca.

First Army Celebrates

Pine Camp, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—The 33rd birthday of the First Army meant a mock air attack for members of the 42nd Infantry Division, New York National Guard. A squadron of F51 Mustangs from the 140th fighter-bomber wing at Godwin Air Force Base dropped bombs and fired rockets and machine guns yesterday to soften the imaginary enemy for elements of the guard division, which is here for summer training. The First Army directs training of guardsmen and reservists at this northern New York encampment. It was organized Aug. 10, 1918, at Laferte-Sous-Jouarre, France.

The daily showmanship will be tested on Wednesday, starting at 9 a. m., with a long list of 4-H Club contestants. To date, 74 of the young farmers have made entries in the various 4-H Club dairy classes.

The 4-H Club dress review, for which 130 entries have already been received, is scheduled to begin 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Tractor Contest

A tractor operation contest is scheduled to begin Thursday at 9 a. m. Tried for the first time at the local fair on a small scale last year, this contest proved very popular with 4-H Club members and spectators alike.

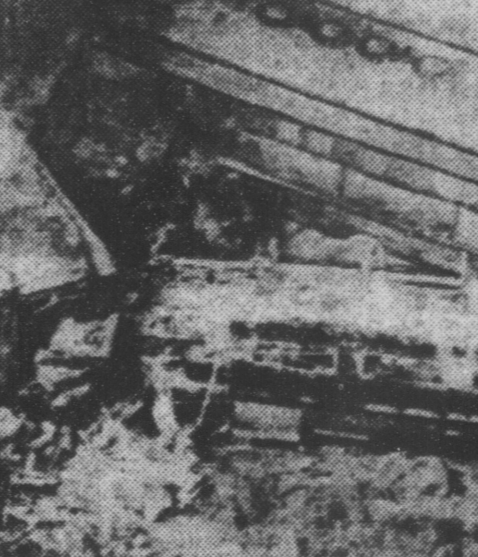

Although the contest is the culmination of the 4-H Club's tractor maintenance and safety program, it is open to all boys and girls of the county. Those who have completed the course and who have maintained the required records will be eligible to compete.

Calm Gunman

Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP)—A gunman fired wildly into scores of shoppers in a crowded grocery store here yesterday. He then walked across the street, ordered a slice of watermelon and calmly ate it until police arrived. One man was killed and another was wounded in the shooting. Both victims apparently were strangers to the gunman. Killed was Laurencio M. Guerrero, 38, Jessie Lopez, 19, was wounded. The gunman surrendered peacefully and was placed in city jail to await filing of charges today.

Recluse Sisters Have $60,000 Cash—40 at Meeting Hear That Project for $30,000 May Start in Near Future

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—A police search of the apartment of two recluse sisters—one of whom was found dead and the other unconscious from malnutrition—has turned up a total of more than $60,000 in cash.

Police yesterday unearthed $38,000 in musty old bills in the tidy apartment of the sisters who lived a life of seclusion for about 30 years. More than $24,000 was found Thursday.

Police broke into the four-room apartment Thursday and found Clara Fafflock, 78, dead in her bed and her sister, Mary, 76, in very weak condition from lack of food. Clara had been dead four or five days. Mary was taken to a hospital where her condition continued to be "very weak."

Neighbors told police the sisters were worth about a half million dollars.

Want 50 Polio Nurses

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Red Cross has appealed for at least 50 nurses to serve in polio-stricken areas. It said in an announcement that nursing resources have been greatly overtaxed by a sudden upsurge in the number of infantile paralysis cases in some communities in Colorado, Wisconsin, Utah, and Texas.

The contract will be advertised for bids as soon as the easements are obtained.

Will Eliminate Brook

The project, for which $30,000 has been earmarked by the Common Council, involves the use of the Washington avenue tunnel, the sinking of two shafts each 90 feet deep and the running of a storm sewer in the bed of the Twaalfskill brook from Washington avenue to Marius street. This will eliminate the brook between those points and will permit property owners to grade the land, and it is there that the easements are needed before work can proceed.

The contract will be advertised for bids as soon as the easements are obtained.

A fire department official from Kansas City, Mo., paid high tribute to members of the legendary United States Marine Corps for the part they played after the head-on crash yesterday of a troop train and a streamliner.

Eight men died and about 60 persons were injured in the flaming wreckage of a marine troop train and the Kansas City Southern streamliner, the Southern Belle. One marine was missing.

Seven of the dead were crewmen on the troop train. A passenger died of a heart attack after the crash.

The two trains ramed into each other at high speed about 60 miles northwest of Baton Rouge, La.

Ray J. Marran, the fire department official, and his wife were passengers on the Southern Belle.

Admiral Turner Accuses Chinese of Stalling All Attempts Made at Kaesong Points Out Nam

Supplies Are Blasted by 2,000 Bombs in Air Raids

Munsan, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy told Communists in strong terms today they had "slammed the door on every attempt to make progress" in the Kaesong cease-fire talks.

The senior United Nations envoy aimed his words directly at Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, for Nam's inflexible stand on the 38th Parallel as the only cease-fire line acceptable to the Reds.

"You did not come here to stop the fighting," Joy declared. "You did not come here to negotiate an armistice. You came here to state your price—your political price for which you are willing to sell the people of Korea a temporary respite from pain."

Meeting of Demands

"You have engaged in these conferences only to present demands, not to negotiate a solution."

When Nam left the conference room at the end of the day's session observers said he was "apparently angry."

Vice Gen. William P. Nuckols, an official spokesman, said Joy departed from his "normally well-tempered, coldly logical phraseology" in his most "vehement" attack yet on the Communists.

Nuckols said the negotiators wrangled for two hours and 20 minutes and reached only one agreement: to meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (8 p. m., Saturday, EST).

Joy's blunt apparently followed his failure to reach any sort of compromise agreement with the Reds.

The communique said the Reds "brusquely rebuffed" Joy's suggestion that they indicate on a map their concept of a buffer zone "based on the present line and the overall military situation."

Nam Stands Pat

Nam and his fellow Reds stood pat on the "single and inflexible" demand that the line be based on the 38th Parallel, old political dividing line between North and South Korea.

Joy's blunt words came in the afternoon session. He spoke for 36 minutes, then proposed a recess until tomorrow.

In agreeing to meet again Sunday, Nam Il said he would continue to insist on the 38th Parallel as the military demarcation line.

This parting shot forecast another session of fruitless argument.

Nuckols said the morning session opened with a brief discussion of administrative matters.

Joy then told the Reds the United Nations command could not accept the continued inflexible stand of the Reds on the 38th Parallel as the cease-fire line. He spoke for only eight minutes.

Nam took the floor for the next 45 minutes and repeated the Red proposals.

Marine Rescue Squads Give Aid, Preserve Calm at Wreck

Simmesport, La., Aug. 11 (AP)—"If it hadn't been for the marines, I don't know what the civilian passengers would have done," Marran related.

"There was a loud crash and breaking glass. Furniture in the diner tumbled around, people were thrown all around the car. One man's face was badly cut. A woman lay unconscious on the floor. A porter had his leg broken and it was dangling."

But there was no panic, Marran declared.

Everyone was unusually calm. In no time, it seemed, marine rescue squads were working.

Others expressed amazement that anyone escaped alive, so terrific was the force of the collision, which occurred about 7 a. m. (CST).

Planes were pushed today for an official investigation.

9W Accident Victim Is Identified by Troopers

Brief Army Career Earl A. Strong, 55 Rochester Man; Wife 'Fair' Today

The man fatally injured in a motor vehicle accident at Port Ewen Friday morning has been identified as Earl Arthur Strong, 55, of 21 Atkinson street, Rochester, it was reported today by state police and Coroner Michael A. Galletta.

Strong died on his way to Kingston Hospital about 9:30 a. m. Friday after a crash on Route 9W which involved a tractor-trailer, an Esopus town truck and two passenger vehicles, state police said.

A verdict of accidental death has been given by Coroner Galletta. An autopsy disclosed Strong suffered a fractured skull, multiple contusions and abrasions, fractured ribs and a fractured left leg.

Strong's wife, Novra, 57, was admitted to the hospital. Her condition today was reported as "apparently fair."

Trooper's Report

Trooper N. K. Lecakes of the Highland state police station, reconstructed the accident in this way:

A tractor-trailer owned by George Muck of New York and driven by Samuel Weiner, 33, also of New York, was proceeding north on Route 9W approaching the curve near the cemetery in the southern section of Port Ewen.

The driver told Lecakes that he observed a slowly moving truck ahead of him, applied his brakes but skidded and struck the rear of the truck, pushing it into a telephone pole, which was broken. The tractor trailer then swerved to its left, the trooper learned, and struck the car in which Mr. and Mrs. Strong were riding, pushing it to the west shoulder of the highway. The Strong's were traveling south.

Lecakes reported that the tractor-trailer finally came to rest against an apple tree off the west of the highway, jackknifed, and (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Recluse Sisters Have $60,000 Cash

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—A police search of the apartment of two recluse sisters—one of whom was found dead and the other unconscious from malnutrition—has turned up a total of more than $60,000 in cash.

Police yesterday unearthed $38,000 in musty old bills in the tidy apartment of the sisters who lived a life of seclusion for about 30 years. More than $24,000 was found Thursday.

40 at Meeting Hear That Project for $30,000 May Start in Near Future

A $30,000 project designed to correct street flooding and surcharging of the sanitary sewer in the Elizabeth street section moved forward another step at a meeting Friday night during which two of six needed easements were signed.

Assurances were given that three other easements would be signed. The remaining easement needs the signature of a New Jersey resident who owns property here.

Agreement on the easements came following a meeting at the city hall attended by about 40 residents of the Elizabeth street area. Plans for the project were displayed and explained by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan. Also present were Edward Cloonan of the city engineer's department and A. Foster Winfield, assistant secretary of the Board of Public Works.

Will Eliminate Brook
The project, for which $30,000 has been earmarked by the Common Council, involves the use of the Washington avenue tunnel, the sinking of two shafts each 95 feet deep and the running of a storm sewer in the bed of the Twaalfskill brook from Washington avenue to Marius street. This will eliminate the brook between those points and will permit property owners to grade the land and it is there that the easements are needed before work can proceed.

The contract will be advertised for bids as soon as the easements are obtained.

Big Losses to Reds
U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 11 (AP)—Fifteen U. S. B-29s today blasted Communist supplies stored near Red-held Hungnam on the east coast of North Korea.

Marine Rescue Squads Give Aid, Preserve Calm at Wreck

Simmesport, La., Aug. 11 (AP)—"If it hadn't been for the marines—"

A fire department official from Kansas City, Mo., paid high tribute to members of the legendary United States Marine Corps for the part they played after the head-on crash yesterday of a troop train and a streamliner.

Eight men died and about 60 persons were injured in the flaming wreckage of a marine troop train and the Kansas City Southern streamliner, the Southern Belle. One marine was missing.

Seven of the dead were crewmen on the troop train. A passenger died of a heart attack after the crash.

The two trains ramed into each other at high speed about 60 miles northwest of Baton Rouge, La.

Ray J. Marran, the fire department official, and his wife were passengers on the Southern Belle.

"If it hadn't been for the marines, I don't know what the civilian passengers would have done," Marran related.

"There was a loud crash and breaking glass. Furniture in the diner tumbled around, people were thrown all around the car. One man's face was badly cut. A woman lay unconscious on the floor. A porter had his leg broken and it was dangling."

But there was no panic, Marran declared.

Everyone was unusually calm. In no time, it seemed, marine rescue squads were working."

Others expressed amazement that anyone escaped alive, so terrific was the force of the collision, which occurred about 7 a. m. (CST).

Plans were pushed today for an official investigation.

Joseph Wolman, Chamber Music Champion, Among New Brooklyn Society's Founders

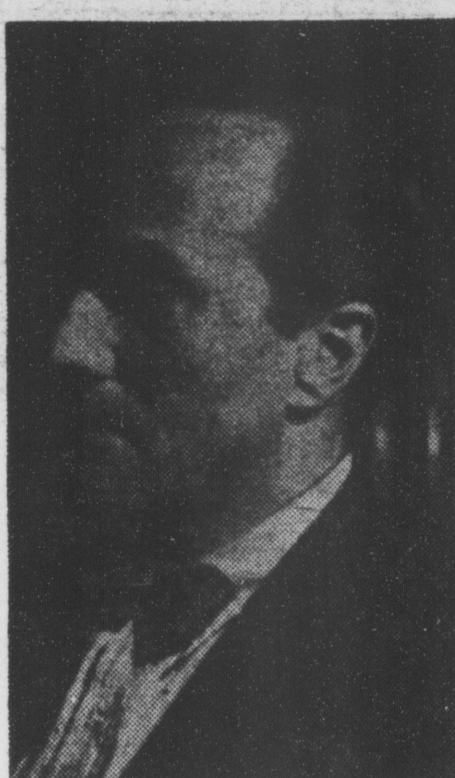

Pianist Joseph Wolman, who has appeared in concert for the past five summer seasons with local groups in the Woodstock-Kingston area, will help to initiate an entirely new type of music organization, Chamber Music Associates, Inc., in Brooklyn this fall. The CMA, which was "officially" organized last June, is actually the dream of Julius Bloom, director of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. Its purpose is two-fold: To give non-professional musicians an opportunity to meet others where they can practice and play, and "to take away the mysterious, forbidding ideas most persons hold concerning chamber music."

Mr. Bloom has had this idea for many years. Mr. Wolman explained during a recent interview. "He has always wanted to get chamber music brought back to where it belongs, in intimate surroundings, where there is a close kinship between the musicians and the audience."

Next fall and winter the CMA will play five chamber music concerts at the Brooklyn Academy and provide at least weekly, and if not more frequently, workshops at the Academy for non-professional musicians. Two or three groups will be practicing at the same time under professional musicians like Mr. Wolman. Others who will probably join the staff are William Kroll, violinist, and another familiar Woodstock figure, the Kroll Quartet, cellist, David Silva, and Dorothy Minty, violin.

There will also be explanatory lectures by composers whose works have just been played, and question and answer periods, for non-playing laymen. Mr. Wolman will be the CMA's music director. "Hated" the Piano Mr. Wolman, who appeared in concert with William Kroll at the Maverick last Sunday, and this week with the Woodstock String Quartet, reluctantly began his career at the age of eight. The native-born New Yorker "hated" the piano, he was prepared to play ball. "It wasn't until I was 14 or 15 that it began to dawn on me music would be my work."

He studied at Juilliard with the German pianist Carl Friedberg, and toured Europe with violinist although many audiences still prefer to hear that an artist has Carroll Glenn. Today, young

JOSEPH WOLMAN

American musicians, he feels, suffer nothing by comparison with those in Europe.

"We're bringing up a fine crop of young American instrumentalists, who don't have to go to Europe to complete their training, studied abroad."

America's musical self sufficiency, he believes was accelerated during World War 2, when, of course, there was no Europe to go to. "But he would have happened anyway," he adds. Most of Europe's best musicians, he points out, have already migrated from their native countries to this one.

Asked if Americans are becoming more music conscious, Wolman agrees wholeheartedly, pointing out the growth of small orchestral units throughout the country. "The Middle West and the West love good music . . . and I mean the best. When on tour, many musicians feel that they have to play the old tried opiates. I have found that that is not true. New music, and the unfamiliar works of the old masters may be played with great success if they are believed in by the performer. That, incidentally is part of the musician's credo. Like after last Sunday's concert . . . I asked William Kroll how I did. He said: 'Did you play with your blood? I did.' And I had played with my blood, so I knew it was all right."

Boys' Department Announces Members For Summer Outings

The YMCA boys' department has had a busy season with 93 boys participating in the Monday trips scheduled for the vacation period. The four trips were to Williams Lake, North Lake, Bear Mountain Park and Ashokan Reservoir. The total attendance for the four trips was 183.

The program on all these trips includes swimming, fishing, impromptu games, hikes, competition and picnicking. Transportation by charter bus is provided at cost. This popular activity is under the supervision and direction of "Chick" Corell, Boy's Secretary and assisted by the following volunteer leaders: Don Plantabach, Skipper Broadhead, Jack Dawkins, Ken Reynolds, Joe Scully, Bob Sember, John Tomaseski, John Gaddis, Neil Keyser, and Jerry Bruck.

The following boys are enrolled in the trip group: George Acker, Bob Antworth, Bob and Joe Benkert, Bob Bogart, John Bode, Don Burger, Billy Bruck, Phil Cullen, Bob Coale, Hank Cragin, George Dawkins, Walt De Brosky, Mick and Joe Demskie, Ron Dietz, Bob Dingman, Don Duffy, Bob Dudek, M. Eula Hauser Wed Saturday Afternoon To Pvt. H. DeWitt

Miss Eula Hauser, daughter of Mrs. Jacob Hauser, Summitville, and Pfc. Herbert DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DeWitt of Napanoch were wed at the Ellenville Reformed Church Saturday afternoon in a double ring ceremony, with the Rev. William A. Irish officiating.

Robert LeRoy of Summitville gave the bride in marriage. For the ceremony she selected an ankle-length gown of white nylon and marquisette, with a lace overjacket and mitts. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a coronet, and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

The bride's honor attendant, Mrs. Lyle Startup, wore a pale blue satin gown, a white net cap, and mitts. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers.

John DeWitt, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushering were Robert DeWitt and Ernest Bollin, both of Napanoch. Following the ceremony a reception for 80 guests was held at the bride's home. The bride wore a blue hat and suit for traveling, and a yellow rose corsage.

Mrs. DeWitt is employed at the Ulster Knife Company, Ellenville. The groom is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Written for NEA Service By OSWALD JACOBY A hand that was played recently in Philadelphia fits right into our discussion of penalty doubles. It's just as important to know when to keep quiet as to know when to double.

East showed a good hand when he jumped to three hearts. He added to his story when he doubled four spades. (North could have made four spades, but South can hardly be blamed for running out.) East would not have doubled four spades unless he hoped to beat any contract of five.

West had the chance to double five clubs, but he failed to do so. West's pass fairly shrieks "Don't count on me for defensive strength. I would double with the smell of a trick, but I don't have even that much."

East cannot be blamed for feeling hopeful, but he should know that he is not going to murder five clubs. The big question is whether five clubs can be beaten at all. A double in such a situation can gain only 50 points if the contract is set one trick.

It loses 150 points if the contract is made; and it loses 350 points if the contract is redoubled and made. It's foolish to gamble 50 points against 350 points when you're far from sure of the 50.

There wasn't the slightest play to beat five clubs. South had to give up two tricks to East's aces, and then he could claim the rest. Of course East could run to five hearts, which might cost only 500 points. But a player who doubles and then runs out when he is redoubled exposes himself to psychic redoubles. East decided that his double was sound and therefore elected to gamble it out. The result is exactly what happens a good part of the time to players who double for a one-trick set.

Card Sense Q—The opening bid has been: South West North East 1 Spade Pass 3 Diamonds Pass You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-3, Hearts A-Q-J-5-2, Diamonds K-2, Club 3. What do you do?

A—Bid three hearts. You will eventually reach a slam in one of the major suits or possibly in diamonds, but there is no need to make a jump bid at this point. You will add to your story in further bids.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7, Hearts A-10-5, Diamonds Q-9-6-2, Clubs 9-4. What do you do? Answer Monday

Jacoby on Canasta

Watch for Clue Before Melding

In our last article we discussed two of the various ways you might play the very same cards. Today we continue the discussion. Your side has melded Joker-A-A-A-A, Joker-K-K-K and Q-Q-Q. You hold K-K, Q, 3, 2 (the three being black, of course), and you draw an ace from the stock. What should you do?

The answer may depend on the number of cards in your partner's hand, or on the way the melding has gone. If he has very few cards, you tend to meld out. If he has a large number of cards, you tend to play on. Somewhere between these extremes you ask for permission to meld out.

For example, assume that you made the initial meld with Joker-A-A and Joker-K-K. Your partner, at his next turn, added two aces, a king, and three queens. He then discarded, and was left with only five cards. This type of meld asks you to meld out as quickly as you can.

If your partner were interested in fighting for the pack he would meld nothing. If he were interested in making one canasta but then staying in the game, he would meld the two aces but nothing else. In this situation, therefore, you meld out at once.

To take the other extreme, suppose that you have made the initial meld as in the last case but that your partner then picked up a large discard pile. He proceeded to meld the queens (which gave him the pile) and to add two aces and a king to your melds. He then discarded, and is left with more than twenty cards. You don't dream of melding out in this situation. It can't be denied that you will have some trouble finding safe discards. Your black three is safe for the first play. At your next turn, you may have to discard the deuce. Your partner cannot be kept out for very long since he has room in his hand for practically all the pairs in the deck. The odds are tremendous that he can pick up the pile before you have to give it away; and there is a chance that you will get the pile yourself sooner or later, in which case you and your partner will have a field day.

It is especially important to play on if the opponents need 120 points and have not yet melded. They are going to have trouble finding an initial meld since they are nearly aceless and jokerless.

Take the same initial meld for your side and suppose that your partner picks up a very small pile. He melds the queens, adds two aces and a king, and then is left with only seven or eight cards. Now you're not sure whether to fight for the pile or meld out as quickly as possible. You therefore ask for permission to meld out, and his answer gives you the clue.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Joseph Wolman, Chamber Music Champion, Among New Brooklyn Society's Founders

Pianist Joseph Wolman, who has appeared in concert for the past five summer seasons with local groups in the Woodstock-Kingston area, will help to initiate an entirely new type of music organization, Chamber Music Association, Inc., in Brooklyn this fall.

The CMA, which was "officially" organized last June, is actually the dream of Julius Bloom, director of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. Its purpose is two-fold: To give non-professional musicians an opportunity to meet others where they can practice and play, and "to take away the mysterious, forbidding ideas most persons hold concerning chamber music."

"Mr. Bloom has had this idea for many years," Mr. Wolman explained during a recent interview. "He has always wanted to see chamber music brought back to where it belongs, in intimate surroundings, where there is a close kinship between the musicians and the audience."

Next fall and winter the CMA will play five chamber music concerts at the Brooklyn Academy and will provide at least weekly, if not more frequently, workshops at the Academy for non-professional musicians. Two or three groups will be practicing at the same time under professional musicians like Mr. Wolman. Others will be in the staff.

There will also be explanatory lectures by composers whose works have just been played, and question and answer periods for non-playing laymen. Mr. Wolman will be the CMA's music director.

"Hated" the Piano Mr. Wolman, who appeared in concert with William Kroll at the Maverick last Sunday, and this week with the Woodstock String Quartet, reluctantly began his career at the age of eight. The native-born New Yorker "hated" the piano to prefer to play ball.

"It wasn't until I was 14 or 15 that it began to dawn on me music would be my work." He studied at Juilliard with the German pianist Carl Friedberg, and toured Europe with violinist Carroll Glenn. Today, young American musicians, he feels, suffer nothing by comparison with those in Europe.

"We're bringing up a fine crop of young American instrumentalists, who don't have to go to Europe to complete their training, studied abroad."

America's musical self sufficiency, he believes was accelerated during World War 2, when, of course, there was no Europe to go to. "But he would have happened anyway," he adds. Most of Europe's best musicians, he points out, have already migrated from their native countries to this one.

Asked if Americans are becoming more music conscious, Wolman agrees wholeheartedly, pointing out the growth of small orchestral units throughout the country. "The Middle West and the West love good music . . . and I mean the best. When on tour, many musicians feel that they have to play the old tried oplaties. I have found that that is not true. New music, and the unfamiliar works of the old masters may be played with great success if they are believed in by the performer. That, incidentally is sort of the musician's credo. Like after last Sunday's concert . . . I asked William Kroll how I did. He said: 'Did you play with your blood? I did.' And I had played with my blood, so I knew it was all right."

Boys' Department Announces Members For Summer Outings

The YMCA boys' department has had a busy season with 93 boys participating in the Monday trips scheduled for the vacation period. The four trips were to Williams Lake, North Lake, Bear Mountain Park and Ashokan Reservoir. The total attendance for the four trips was 183.

Eula Hauser Wed Saturday Afternoon To Pvt. H. DeWitt

Miss Eula Hauser, daughter of Mrs. Jacob Hauser, Summitville, and Pfc. Herbert DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DeWitt of Napanoch were wed at the Ellenville Reformed Church Saturday afternoon in a double ring ceremony, with the Rev. William A. Irish officiating.

Robert LeRoy of Summitville gave the bride in marriage. For the ceremony she selected an ankle-length gown of white nylon and marquisette, with a lace overjacket and mitts. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a coronet, and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

The bride's honor attendant, Mrs. Lyle Startup, wore a pale blue satin gown, a white net cap, and mitts. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers.

John DeWitt, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushering were Robert DeWitt and Ernest Bollin, both of Napanoch.

Following the ceremony a reception for 80 guests was held at the bride's home. The bride wore a blue hat and suit for traveling, and a yellow rose corsage.

Mrs. DeWitt is employed at the Ulster Knife Company, Ellenville. The groom is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Written for NEA Service By OSWALD JACOBY

A hand that was played recently in Philadelphia fits right into our discussion of penalty doubles. It's just as important to know when to keep quiet as to know when to double.

East showed a good hand when he jumped to three hearts. He added to his story when he doubled four spades. (North could have made four spades, but South can hardly be blamed for running out.) East would not have doubled four spades unless he hoped to beat any contract of five.

West had the chance to double five clubs, but he failed to do so. West's pass fairly shrieks "Don't count on me for a defensive strength. I would double with the smell of a trick, but I don't have even that much."

East cannot be blamed for feeling hopeful, but he should know that he is not going to murder five clubs. The big question is whether five clubs can be beaten at all. A double in such a situation can gain only 50 points if the contract is set one trick.

It loses 150 points if the contract is made; and it loses 350 points if the contract is redoubled and made. It's foolish to gamble 50 points against 350 points when you're far from sure of the 50.

There wasn't the slightest play to beat five clubs. South had to give up two tricks to East's aces, and then he could claim the rest. Of course East could run to five hearts, which might net only 500 points. But a player who doubles and then runs out when he is redoubled exposes himself to psychic redoubles. East decided that his double was sound and therefore elected to gamble it out. The result is exactly what happens a good part of the time to players who double for a one-trick set.

Card Sense

Q—The opening bid has been: South West North East 1 Spade Pass 3 Diamonds Pass 4 Clubs Pass 350 A-Q-J-7. If a 1-5-2. Diamonds, K-2, Club 3. What do you do?

A—Bid three hearts. You will eventually reach a slam in one of the major suits or possibly in diamonds, but there is no need to make a jump bid at this point. You will add to your story in further bids.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7, Hearts A-10-5, Diamonds Q-9-6-2, Clubs 9-4. What do you do?

Jacoby on Canasta

Watch for Clue Before Melding

In our last article we discussed two of the various ways you might play the very same cards. Today we continue the discussion.

Your side has melded Joker-A-A-A-A, Joker-K-K-K and Q-Q-Q. You hold K-K-Q, 3, 2 (the three being black, of course), and you draw an ace from the stock. What should you do?

The answer may depend on the number of cards in your partner's hand, or on the way the melding has gone. If he has very few cards, you tend to meld out. If he has a large number of cards, you tend to play on. Somewhere between these extremes you ask for permission to meld out.

For example, assume that you made the initial meld with Joker-A-A and Joker-K-K-K. Your partner, at his next turn, added two aces, a king, and three queens. He then discarded, and was left with only five cards. This type of meld asks you to meld out as quickly as you can.

If your partner were interested in fighting for the pack he would not have discarded. He would have then staying in the game, he would meld the two aces but nothing else. In this situation, therefore, you meld out at once.

To take the other extreme, suppose that you have made the initial meld as in the last case but that your partner then picked up a large discard pile. He proceeded to meld the queens (which gave him the pile) and to add two aces and a king to your melds. He then discarded, and is left with more than twenty cards. You don't dream of melding out in this situation.

It can't be denied that you will have some trouble finding safe discards. Your black three is safe for the first play. At your next turn, you may have to discard the deuce. Your partner cannot be kept out for very long since he has room in his hand for practically all the pairs in the deck.

The odds are tremendous that he can pick up the pile before you have to give it away; and there is a chance that you will get the pile yourself sooner or later, in which case you and your partner will have a field day.

It is especially important to play on if the opponents need 120 points and have not yet melded. They are going to have trouble finding an initial meld since they are nearly aceless and jokerless.

Take the same initial meld for your side and suppose that your partner picks up a very small pile. He melds the queens, adds two aces and a king, and then is left with only seven or eight cards. Now you're not sure whether to fight for the pile or meld out as quickly as possible. You therefore ask for permission to meld out, and his answer gives you the clue.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Russell, Poughkeepsie, and Tuesday, the Misses Sara E. Deyo and Eliza Marks, New Paltz.

Alfred Haeffel, Jr., returned Wednesday to Camp Pickett, Va., after a visit with his parents.

William Haviland has been elected president of the Hudson Valley Farm Equipment Association succeeding Peter Soporno of Washingtonville.

Six hydrants in the Highland water district have recently been broken by automobile accidents. Of the number four drivers are known who figured in the accident.

Miss E. Ruth Palmer, Montgomery, who died in Harkness Pavilion, Presbyterian Hospital, New York, Friday, was a cousin of Harry and Eddie Coutant, Washington avenue. Her father was a brother of their mother, Mrs. William W. Cotant.

Albert Gersch has driven from Florida and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gersch, North road.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Noe will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Percy Terpening this week-end to the latter's camp near Schroeon Lake.

In the dinner meeting of the Lions Club Monday night at the Blossom Farm Inn Frank McCann led in the singing of America and salute to the flag. President Francis Rheel called on reports of the fireplaces being erected at the Recreation Center, said that one was completed and weather permitting a second one would be finished by Wednesday night, also the last Sunday of each month would be paper collection day when Lion members and Boy Scouts would make collections.

The start will be made at the high school at 1 p. m. The trucks will cover the entire village and outside areas. The paper either may be placed on the curb or on the porch of houses. Peter Burdshaw, who had returned from a trip to Detroit, gave an account of his visit to the Ford Motor plant. The meeting adjourned at 9:20.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 10—Herman Boland, retired New York city newspaper printer who is vacationing at Cottekill, spent the week-end at the home of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dehler and children, in the village center.

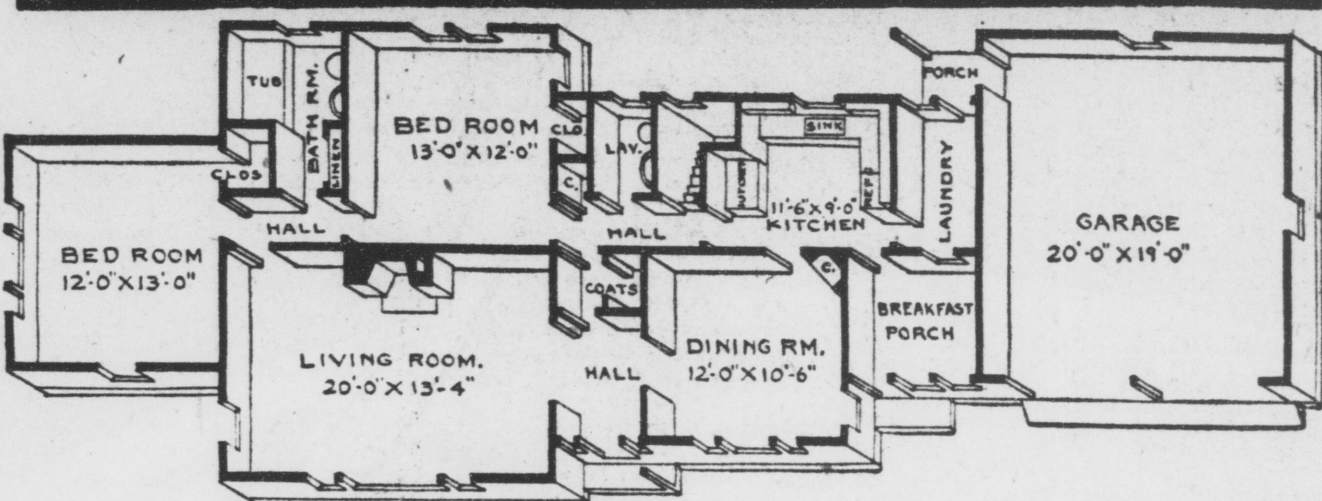

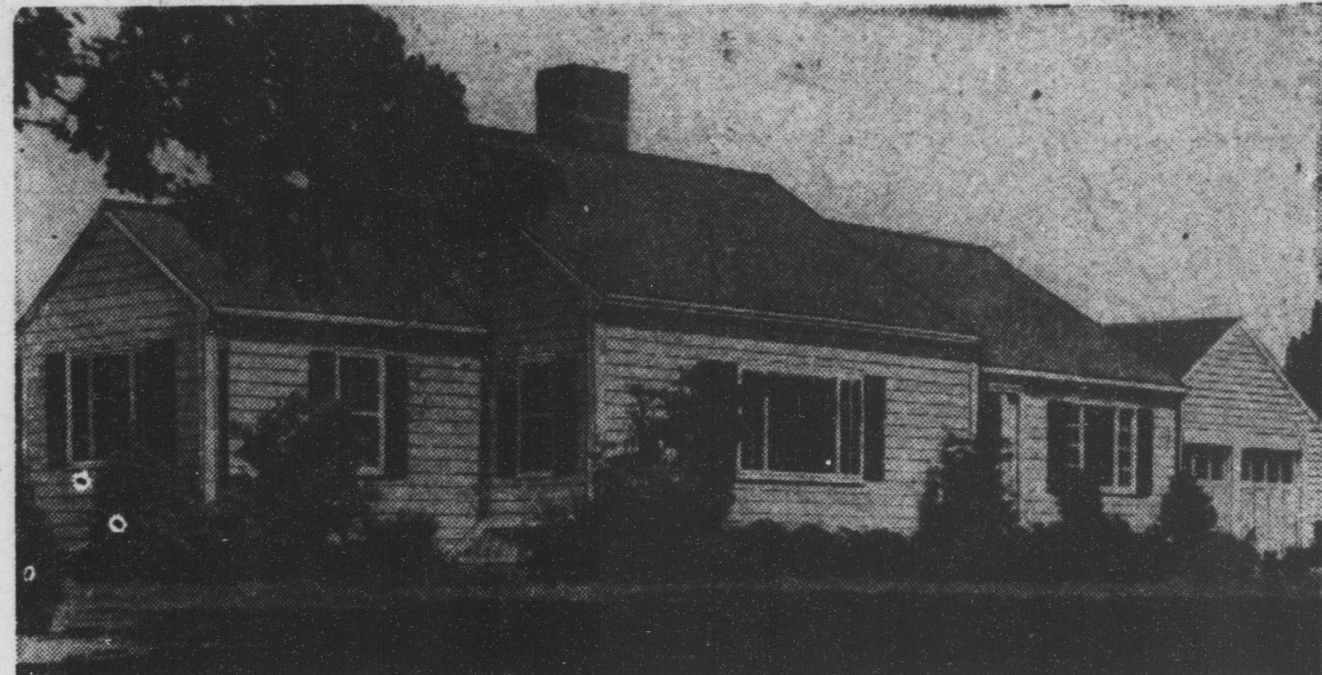

The Reformed Church fair and baked ham supper Wednesday was well attended by people from several communities. One patchwork quilt is reported to have brought $25.

Bernard Casablanca, summer resident, has finished plastering the interior of his remodelled bungalow on the reservoir road.

Bernard, who has been foreman of plasterers on several N. Y. city housing projects including Stuyvesant Town, puts on a well nigh perfect wall.

Salesmen stopping here report business very slow farther up in the mountains. Some sort of mid-season recession seems to be

An Old-fashioned New England Farm House

Rooms Six

Closets Five
House 19,000 ft.
Garage 6,300 ft.
Dimensions 79' x 28'

Simple landscaping and plantings are recommended but a few taller bushes will add to the feeling of homey friendliness that characterizes "The Cohasset." Narrow windows flank the front door which is protected by a tiny porchway. The front doorway opens on a good sized entry hall.

An archway in the left wall of the entry hall opens on the living room; the archway in the right wall leads to the dining room. In the rear of the right wall, just before the entry hall connecting with the central hall, is a large coat closet.

Picture Window
Measuring 20' x 13'4", the living room boasts a large picture window in its front wall and a handsome fireplace in its back wall as its two most attractive features. Casement windows flank the picture window and the window in the left wall provide additional light and ventilation for the living room.

The long unbroken left wall will greatly facilitate furniture placement and the doors in the room are so arranged that no one has to walk directly through the center of the living room to get from one room to another. In the back wall another door leads to the central hall connecting with the rest of the rooms.

On the left, off this central hall, is a bedroom that measures 12' x 13' in dimensions. With one window in the front wall and a large picture window, flanked by narrow casement windows, in the left wall, this bedroom is certain of good cross ventilation and lighting. The extra closet is placed in the right wall, back to the bathroom.

Large enough to hold a tub and shower as well as a handy linen closet, the bathroom receives light and ventilation through the window in the back wall. The bathroom separates the two bedrooms.

Measuring 13' x 12', the second bedroom has double windows in the back wall and another window in the right wall. The long unbroken left wall would be ideal for the installation of bunk beds if you wish to use this bedroom for the "small fry." The closet in the right wall will be large enough for normal storage usage.

You'll appreciate the lavatory located just to the right off this bedroom and just beside the stairway to the cellar—you'll especially appreciate it in the morning rush when the bathroom all too frequently develops into a bottle neck.

Also located off the central hallway, the all modern kitchen has counters, cabinets and cupboards arranged in an L along the back and right walls. The sink is placed under the window in the center of the back wall while the refrigerator is at the right end of the line of working counters. The stove should occupy the alcove formed by the left wall beside the cellar stairway.

Work Center
Designed as a work center, the kitchen measures 11'6"x9' and not an inch of this area is wasted. Across the hallway from the kitchen is the 12' x 10'6" dining room. With a large picture window flanked by narrow casement windows in its front wall, and another window in the right wall, the dining room is a well lighted and pleasant room. The china closet built into the right back corner will serve as a safe and convenient storage place for your fine china and glassware.

The central hallway terminates in the first floor laundry which receives plenty of light through the window in the front wall, looking out on the breakfast porch, and the window in the back wall, looking out on the back porch. A door leading also to the back porch gives easy access to the back yard when you want to hang out the family laundry. For additional light you could use a French door for this exit.

The breakfast porch itself is pleasantly lighted by two windows in the front wall. A door leads to the small side porch. This breakfast porch will see a lot of use not only at breakfast time, but all the day through, for it makes an ideal place to serve lunch or afternoon tea.

Measuring 20' x 19', the two-car garage has plenty of room for storage of screens, garden tools, etc. A door from the back porch provides a protected entrance for the garage. A window in the back wall and another in the right wall provide plenty of light and air.

Heating equipment, the only required basement installation, should be placed under the living room. You'll have more than enough basement areas for a recreation room, hobby shop, work shop, etc.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, The Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Color Combination Will Provide Room Serenity
A living room with a serene atmosphere combines deep green, navy blue and chartreuse. Walls and woodwork are painted a rich, deep green; the ceiling, pale yellow. The pale yellow is repeated again on a chair covering and in lamp shades. The navy blue is introduced on the studio couch cover. The furniture and floor covering are in cool gray and the draperies combine all the colors in the room in an attractive design.

New Hard Gloss Floor Finish

A new self-polishing floor polish that has unusual hardness to resist scuffing feet has been developed by the chemists in the famous Johnson Wax research tower in Racine, Wisconsin.

Called "Hard Gloss Glo-Coat," this polish has been in the development stage for more than a year. It is the toughest self-polishing floor finish which has ever been formulated — doesn't show heel marks and is hard to mar by children, dogs and heavy shoes.

In addition to the protection this new polish gives to floors, it also has a higher gloss than any other product of its kind ever developed.

Thousands of housewives kitchen tested the product before it was introduced to the Kingston market. All of them believed it to be superior to any other floor polish they had ever used.

The product is applied like any other self-polishing wax: spread evenly over the floor with an applicator or a clean cloth...and let to dry for about 20 minutes. It can be used on linoleum, asphalt and rubber tile, wood and other sealed floors.

The new floor polish is easy to clean, too. Dirt and dust don't penetrate the hard film. A damp mop will easily remove most surface dirt.

Thermostat System Latest Heat Control

Minneapolis—The newest system for automatic regulation of house heating plants is a sort of "triangulation in temperatures" that produces the right answers for the furnace or boiler on the basis of three separate thermometer readings.

Engineers explain that in this three-point setup there are two thermostats inside the house to get a true picture of the average inside temperature, and a third outdoors, usually on the north, or the coldest side of the house.

The outside thermostat, they explain, acts as a "lookout" and anticipates changes in the interior's heat needs. The three instruments combined and synchronized thus signal for enough heat to provide comfort before persons in the house become aware that "Baby, it's colder outside."

Asbestos Ironing Board Cover on Market

One of the latest household safety devices on the market is an asbestos ironing board cover, which reduces the danger of fire from overheated irons. Draperies of fireproof asbestos also are now available for use particularly in such public places as hotels, clubs and so on. Asbestos, one of the most remarkable minerals known to man, is incombustible and practically indestructible. Among its many commercial uses is its combination with Portland cement to form asbestos cement building materials, which usually last the life of a building.

on, similar to the one which obtained in the Catskills last year.

John Valland, Jr., and assistant have felled a number of trees on the grounds of the Valland summer home, to provide more light and a better view of the mountains.

Grant Avery, former town superintendent of highways, has been employed on the rebuilding of the flood-damaged Funcrest dam and lake at Pine Hill. The dam is completed and the large basin is filling up again.

Birthdays falling Monday, Aug. 13, include that of Mrs. Charles Lockwood, well-known Old Hurley businesswoman. The former Ethel Buley was brought up near Ashokan, daughter of Alva and Katherine Buley; she has lived in Hurley 16 years and has three children. Mrs. Lockwood is a granddaughter of Wesley Buley, an Olive Civil War veteran.

Mrs. Frank Barringer accompanied her granddaughter, Mrs. George Schmelz, to Boston where the former Helen Avery will make her home in the suburbs. The couple were married this year and George is now in the navy.

Elder George Ruston and wife of Dutton, Ontario, Can., recently called on friends in Halcottville. The elder is a one time pastor of Old School Baptist Churches in Delaware county and he is also well known to members of the Olive and Hurley O. S. Church where he has preached upon many occasions.

Color serves many purposes in home

Color gives a home individuality and personality and sets it apart from its neighbors. Color can effect a family's moods; makes small spaces appear larger, larger ones smaller; and even banish the barren look from a sparsely-furnished room.

Most satisfying colors are pastels or subtle off-shades, rather than pure primary red, blue, yellow. Dark wall tones contrast effectively with light-colored furniture. Dark gray with white trim, or Kelly green with canary yellow ceiling are good combinations. Maple furniture is brought into focus against shades of blue or yellow. Dark mahogany or oak is enhanced by medium greens or deeper shades of blue.

Before deciding on a room color scheme, two-foot squares or swatches of paint or paper in preferred colors and patterns from the dealer will make selections easier, as colors may be tried on walls, behind furniture and under artificial light.

Too Thick a Coat Will Result in Wrinkled Paint

The wrinkling of paint is caused by applying too thick a coat. The surface dries quickly but there is an undried portion underneath. As the underpart dries and contracts, the top surface wrinkles. This can be avoided by adding thinner to paint which has become over-thick (about one-half pint to the gallon) or by applying plenty of elbow grease and brushing out the paint to avoid thick films.

Sandpaper Metal Area Before Putting on Paint

Metal surfaces should be sandpapered to remove any roughness before applying a new coating of paint or enamel. Any traces of rust should be completely removed or the rust will continue its destruction. Where the surface is sanded down to the metal itself, it should be given a first coat of metal primer before the finishing coats are applied.

Empty Paint Cans Under Ladder Feet Are a Help

Empty paint cans set under the feet of a ladder will act like snowshoes, spread the weight of the ladder and the person on it over a comparatively large area and keep it from sinking in soft earth. This trick reduces the danger of the ladder shifting while you're on it.

Water Softeners

In many sections of the country the water supply contains elements that have a corrosive effect on plumbing. In such cases, water softeners may be installed that will remove hard substances,

BOY SCOUT FINANCE CAMPAIGN

The annual Boy Scout finance campaign currently underway in Ulster and Greene Counties deserves the wholehearted support of residents in the communities comprising these two counties.

Your contribution to this worthy cause will help further a program which gives all boys the opportunity of receiving the best possible training for American citizenship. It should not be necessary to mention the importance of having a boy receive a year of scout training in good American ideals.

Boy Scouts are a familiar part of the American scene. They may be seen along any country road in peacetime, or wherever useful work for the war effort is done in time of emergency. Their training fits them for this useful work and this alone is worth serious consideration by every American.

The importance of this pledge and training to the continuance of American ideals is generally recognized but too often forgotten when financial support is asked.

It is the policy of the Boy Scouts of America that the program be financed by public subscription from the people of the area in which the program is to be made effective. Since there is no other source of income, it is necessary to secure this money through the solicitation of funds in the campaign conducted once a year.

The money received through the annual campaign is used to help the sponsoring institutions properly organize their troops and assist them in their program of scouting as outlined by the executives of the national organization.

If the Rip Van Winkle Council is to continue to function, we must all take advantage of the opportunity of giving in this annual campaign. The drive will continue until August 18. Don't miss the chance to make an investment in the boys of your community. It will pay dividends.

CONGRESS AND BASEBALL

The matter of reserve clause in baseball players' contracts has come in for a good deal of Congressional consideration. The clause binds a player to the team which first signs him until he is traded, sold or released by the club.

At first glance the clause seems like an inequity since it restricts a player's ability to select his employer. But the nature of organized baseball is such that without the clause pennant races might be decided with checkbooks instead of with baseball bats. At the close of each season, without the reserve clause, the team owner with the most money could sign up all the best players.

Baseball clubs should move to correct any inequities which the reserve clause imposes. Perhaps a board of impartial judges could be set up to decide differences between players and team owners. Whatever the solution, it should come from within the game itself rather than from Congressional or court action.

Baseball should be kept free of government regulation. Who knows where it would stop once it started? The prospect of an umpire being summoned before a committee of Congress to explain a decision he made in a Sunday double-header is not a happy one.

On second thought, calling an umpire to Washington might be educational for congressional investigators. Who ever won an argument with an umpire?

PROGRESS OF THE AIR FORCE

As we speak of building our air power to a point superior to that of the Russians we think in terms of long-range bombers and jet fighters. It is hard to realize that the Air Force had its beginning just 42 years ago.

The first planes purchased by the Army were biplanes which took off from a mono-rail track and achieved the then amazing speed of 125 miles an hour. They met the requirement set down by the Army that they be able to be transported in an army wagon.

The struggle to achieve the place the Air Force has today was a loud and hard one.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

MIKE QUILL

New York city is faced by the threat of a unionized police force led by Mike Quill. If Quill succeeds in New York, he will set out to establish a national union of the police forces of all cities in the United States. Organized by such a person, strident, blatant, without roots in American life and tradition, it would mean the destruction of police as servants of the people. They would become stooges of Quill's union; expulsion from the union would mean no job and therefore the union could and would dominate the police force.

Mike Quill's public history is no good. He came here an adult after a revolutionary career in Ireland. He went to work in the transit system and in 1934 organized, with the assistance of a group of public Communists, a union of transit workers. There is evidence before the House Committee on Un-American Activities that Quill himself was once a member of the Communist Party. Quill insists that he is an anti-Communist.

It must be admitted that during Mike Quill's leadership, the wages, conditions of work and general benefits of transit workers improved greatly. But it was accomplished by the most brutal flouting of the public weal, by strikes and threats of strikes, by slowdowns and peril to the health and finances of the city. It was revolutionary trade unionism of the European type.

The police department of New York is no longer "the finest." During the LaGuardia regime, the morale of the department broke down because LaGuardia was playing politics with labor and minority groups whom he favored at the expense of law enforcement.

In the O'Dwyer administration of the city, graft in connection with gambling developed to such unusual proportions that the police department had to be investigated and numbers of the force retired. Thomas F. Murphy, prosecuting attorney in the Hiss case, was appointed police commissioner to clean up the department. He is now, however, on the Federal bench. His successor, George P. Monaghan, is an able and alert lawyer.

The seriousness of the situation is that New York is a city of about 8,000,000 people which could, in wartime, fall into the hands of subversive elements who are concentrated there. This city is the heart of all Communist activity in the United States. Although Mike Quill has denounced his former colleagues, the fact that he chooses this precise moment of national peril to head the police, knowing his own record, as he must, is startling.

A police organization should be headed by a person concerning whom there is not a shadow of a doubt. Mike Quill was long associated with Harry Sacher, John Santo, and Austin Hogan in his Transport Workers Union. Harry Sacher is an outstanding Communist lawyer, one of the most obstreperous in the court over which Judge Medina presided and is now in contempt. John Santo has been ordered deported as an undesirable alien and left the country voluntarily.

Quill may have broken with his Communist associates altogether. He may be as white now as new-driven snow. It is, however, difficult to forget that he denied Communist complicity as vigorously as he does today when he was clearly associated with the Communists. It is not possible to know what is in one's heart and mind. Quill could prove his anti-Communism by mind-aiding them to create further disturbances in any part of the United States. Then there would be no doubt as to his attitude.

As it is, he has become a threat to the largest city in our country. He is threatening it with dual control of its police force. He is threatening it with the danger of disorder in the event of a strike, let us say, on its long and important waterfront where Communists, gangsters and dope peddlers are active in various subversive and even revolutionary efforts.

This is no time to condone or tolerate such perils for any reason whatsoever. Nor is it a problem limited to New York. If Quill is recognized as heading a police union, hundreds of Quills will arise over the country and they will combine into a powerful, dues-collecting, disciplined national organization. Running a police union could be the country's best racket, particularly if the union wins the usual clause of no-dismissal without a trial before union officials. The no-dismissal clause is making for decreased efficiency in many industries; it can wreck a police department altogether. (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

VARIOUS METHODS OF REDUCING WEIGHT

When overweights find excess fat spoiling their appearance, their pride may cause them to determine to reduce their weight. What they forget is that the excess fat did not come on them suddenly, and that it will take them months if not years to get down to normal weight safely. Generally they consult their physician as to a quick method of reducing which will cause the fat to disappear more rapidly than by reducing food alone.

That certain drugs can help to reduce weight to a considerable extent is known to the family physician. Thyroid extract reduces weight by increasing the rate at which the body processes creating the rapid and digitalis decrease the desire for food.

What about these methods of reducing weight? Some months ago I referred to the results obtained by Drs. David Alderberg and Martin E. Meyer (Mt. Sinai Hospital, New York City) in the treatment of 299 obese patients over five and one-half years. Each patient remained under regular observation by the same physician at one to four week intervals throughout this period of investigation.

Treatment for 132 patients consisted of a diet of about 1,200 calories and no drug or medical treatment. For 61 patients, in addition to the 1,200 calorie diet, thyroid extract (2 to 3 grains daily) was given. For 90 patients, in addition to the 1,200 calorie diet, 5 to 10 mg. Benzedrine Sulphate twice daily was given. The balance of the 299 patients, 16, were treated first by diet alone, then by diet and thyroid extract, and then by diet and Benzedrine Sulphate (amphetamine).

What did these research workers find and report? Diet alone resulted in greater weight loss than when diet and thyroid extract was used, but when amphetamine (Benzedrine Sulphate) was used, this so depressed the appetite for the first couple of months that there was more weight loss than when diet alone and diet and thyroid extract were used. However, the dose of Benzedrine Sulphate had to be increased to get continuous loss in weight.

The above results teach us that reduction of the food intake is still the best method of reducing weight successfully and safely.

Overweight and Underweight
Sufferers with either overweight or underweight will find many helpful suggestions in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Overweight and Underweight." To obtain it, send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp to cover cost of mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. The first flyers to see combat in World War I were daredevils who flew and fought in the tradition of the old duellists. Such men as General Billy Mitchell risked their careers to warn the government that air power might decide future wars. Today the Air Force is an independent branch of our forces. It is generally realized that maintaining its strength is necessary for our safety. It has been an eventful 42 years.

All Tied Up

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — That shiny new Cadillac presented by the Elks Club of Houston to General MacArthur when he visited Texas still isn't paid for. The car cost $5,700 and the Elks, in their enthusiasm, figured the money would be easy to raise. So they presented the car to MacArthur and figured on paying for it later.

When the last appeal for funds was issued, however, MacArthur's popularity seemed to be on the wane, and only $1,286 of the $5,700 was in the Elks' kitty. Here is the letter sent out by Phil Hamburger, chairman of the MacArthur Gift Fund, Houston Lodge No. 151, BOP Elks:

"You doubtless are familiar with the fact that during General MacArthur's visit to Houston he received as a gift from the Elks and friends a black 7-passenger Cadillac sedan.

"The purchase of this car at a cost of $5,700.00 was undertaken by members of the Elks and friends, and at the present time we have only raised $1,286.00, and since we are in need of more funds the purpose of this letter is to afford you an opportunity to be listed as a contributor to the Gift Fund.

"The ownership certificate to the car will be forwarded to General MacArthur along with an appropriate scroll bearing the names of all contributors, and the list of names is being closed out when the amount of $5,700.00 is received."

Rye Speculating
A little more information has leaked out regarding the huge speculation in Rye, and the sudden reversal of the Agriculture Department's ban on Canadian rye. An offer of a million dollars was dangled before Ralph Trigg, formerly in charge of all rye purchases, if he would buy Canadian rye. Trigg said no.

However, last spring, after Trigg got out, his policy was reversed and the U. S. government bought up a large quantity of Canadian rye mixed with U. S. rye. It is now learned that two senators pressured the Agriculture Department to bring about this change—Young of North Dakota and McCarthy of Wisconsin, both Republicans. Minnesota's two senators—Humphrey, Democrat, and Thye, Republican—sat in on one meeting regarding rye. However, they attended at the urging of McCarthy and did nothing more than put in an appearance.

Senator Young, who comes from a big rye-producing state, wanted to ban rye imports from Canada altogether. Since Canadian rye was already mixed with American rye in northwest grain elevators, however, Young agreed that the government should buy this Canadian rye in order to reduce the surplus. By getting rid of the surplus and by banning future rye shipments from Canada, Young hoped to create a better market for American rye farmers.

It was McCarthy, however, who constantly telephoned and heckled the Agriculture Department to reverse the ban on buying Canadian rye. He not only called on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to reverse the ban on buying Canadian rye, but was continually in the Agriculture Department's hall until it knuckled under and began buying Canadian rye.

McCarthy's intense interest in Canadian rye is a puzzle. Furthermore, the million dollars dangled before Ralph Trigg and the multimillion-dollar corner on the rye market, cooked up by the big speculators, also remains a mystery.

Note—McCarthy has not speculated in the commodity market under his own name since the 1947 Senate investigation of the commodity market. Previously McCarthy had speculated chiefly in butter. After the 1947 investigation, however, McCarthy struck up an interesting friendship with Ralph Moore, the speculating partner of former Senator Thomas of Oklahoma. It is significant that Moore has been associated in the rye market with Dan Rice, one of the biggest speculators in Canadian rye.

Texas Enters London
Claude Carter of Harlingen, Texas, went to Paris and London this summer to keep a date with Winston Churchill.

Mr. Carter lives down near the Mexican border, a long way from London, but some years ago when he was president of the Texas Bar Association, he met and entertained Winston Churchill. So the distinguished Britisher told him that if he ever came to London, he should look him up.

Claude Carter never forgot that invitation, and apparently Mr. Churchill didn't either. For this summer, wearing his broad-brimmed Texas hat in London, Mr. Carter called on the ex-prime minister and was invited to dine at Churchill's club.

Carter tells how he wandered into the writing room, snatched some stationery and wrote his Texas friends from the club of the ex-prime minister.

Later at dinner the guests started discussing which of Churchill's many famous speeches was the greatest. Most agreed that it was the "blood, sweat and tears; fight 'em on the beaches" epic. However, the gentleman from Texas interposed this idea.

"Winston," said Mr. Carter, "you made the greatest mistake of your life in that memorable speech. You quoted from many great authorities, including the beloved Kipling. But you missed by a hair's breadth the opportunity to have made the greatest speech in all English history and literature."

"Why?" asked the puzzled Churchill.

"Because you could have quoted from the immortal Shakespeare. You could have used his great line from King John—'This England never did, nor never shall, lie at the proud foot of a conqueror.'"

Churchill seemed to like the suggestion, said he wished he had had Carter as his ghost-writer during the war, even indicated that the only people who conceivably might ever conquer England were Texans.

North Dakota's Champion
For years, the big bull voice of Bill Langer, North Dakota's earthy senator, has been bellowing in the chamber demanding that the State Department name an ambassador from his state.

When, a few days ago, Thomas E. Whelan, a North Dakota business man was nominated to be U. S. ambassador to Nicaragua, the rangy Langer rose to his feet.

Across the aisle, Sen. Bill Benton of Connecticut mildly remarked: "Now that the senator has achieved his victory, I trust he will spare us his daily oration on the ability of North Dakota citizens. I'm sure we're all familiar with the subject."

With a broad grin, Langer nodded in agreement. (Copyright, 1951, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

In the O'Dwyer administration of the city, graft in connection with gambling developed to such unusual proportions that the police department had to be investigated and numbers of the force retired. Thomas F. Murphy, prosecuting attorney in the Hiss case, was appointed police commissioner to clean up the department. He is now, however, on the Federal bench. His successor, George P. Monaghan, is an able and alert lawyer.

The seriousness of the situation is that New York is a city of about 8,000,000 people which could, in wartime, fall into the hands of subversive elements who are concentrated there. This city is the heart of all Communist activity in the United States. Although Mike Quill has denounced his former colleagues, the fact that he chooses this precise moment of national peril to head the police, knowing his own record, as he must, is startling.

A police organization should be headed by a person concerning whom there is not a shadow of a doubt. Mike Quill was long associated with Harry Sacher, John Santo, and Austin Hogan in his Transport Workers Union. Harry Sacher is an outstanding Communist lawyer, one of the most obstreperous in the court over which Judge Medina presided and is now in contempt. John Santo has been ordered deported as an undesirable alien and left the country voluntarily.

Quill may have broken with his Communist associates altogether. He may be as white now as new-driven snow. It is, however, difficult to forget that he denied Communist complicity as vigorously as he does today when he was clearly associated with the Communists. It is not possible to know what is in one's heart and mind. Quill could prove his anti-Communist bona fides by ingesting some Communist disturbances in any part of the United States. Then there would be no doubt as to his attitude.

As it is, he has become a threat to the largest city in our country. He is threatening it with dual control of its police force. He is threatening it with the danger of disorder in the event of a strike, let us say, on its long and important waterfront where Communist gangsters and dope peddlers are active in various subversive and even revolutionary efforts.

This is no time to condone or tolerate such perils for any reason whatsoever. Nor is it a problem limited to New York. If Quill is recognized as heading a police union, hundreds of Quills will arise over the country and they will combine into a powerful, dues-collecting, disciplined national organization. Running a police union could be the country's best racket, particularly if the union wins the usual clause of no-dismissal without a trial before union officials. The no-dismissal clause is making for decreased efficiency in many industries; it can wreck a police department altogether. (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

VARIOUS METHODS OF REDUCING WEIGHT

When overweight men find excess fat spoiling their appearance, their pride may cause them to determine to reduce their weight. What they forget is that the excess fat did not come on them suddenly, and that it will take them months if not years to get down to normal weight safely. Generally they consult their physician as to a quick method of reducing which will cause the fat to disappear more rapidly than by reducing food alone.

That certain drugs can help to reduce weight to a considerable extent is known to the family physician. Thyroid extract reduces weight by increasing the rate at which the body processes work, thus creating more heat in the body, and Benzadrine Sulphate and digitalis decrease the desire for food.

What about these methods of reducing weight? Some months ago I referred to the results obtained by Drs. David Alderberg and Martin E. Myers (Mt. Sinai Hospital, New York City) in the treatment of 299 obese patients over five and one-half years. Each patient remained under regular observation by the same physician at one to four week intervals throughout this period of investigation.

Treatment for 132 patients consisted of a diet of about 1,200 calories and no drugs or medical treatment. For 61 patients, in addition to the 1,200 calorie diet, thyroid extract (2 to 3 grains daily) was given. For 90 patients, in addition to the 1,200 calorie diet, 5 to 10 mg. Benzadrine Sulphate twice daily was given. The balance of the 299 patients, 16, were treated first by diet alone, then by diet and thyroid extract, and then by diet and Benzadrine Sulphate (amphetamine).

What did these research workers find and report? Diet alone resulted in greater weight loss than when diet and thyroid extract was used, but when amphetamine (Benzadrine Sulphate) was used, this so depressed the appetite for the first couple of months that there was more weight loss than when diet alone and diet and thyroid extract were used. However, the dose of Benzadrine Sulphate had to be increased to get continuous loss in weight.

The above results teach us that reduction of the food intake is still the best method of reducing weight successfully and safely.

Overweight and Underweight

Sufferers with either overweight or underweight will find many helpful suggestions in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Overweight and Underweight." To obtain it, send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

The first flyers to see combat in World War I were daredevils who flew and fought in the tradition of the old duelists. Such men as General Billy Mitchell risked their careers to warn the government that air power might decide future wars. Today the Air Force is an independent branch of our forces. It is generally realized that maintaining its strength is necessary for our safety. It has been an eventful 42 years.

All Tied Up

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — That shiny new Cadillac presented by the Elks Club of Houston to General MacArthur when he visited Texas still isn't paid for. The car cost $5,700 and the Elks, in their enthusiasm, figured the money would be easy to raise. So they presented the car to MacArthur and figured on paying for it later.

When the last appeal for funds was issued, however, MacArthur's popularity seemed to be on the wane, and only $1,286 of the $5,700 was in the Elks' kitty. Here is the letter sent out by Phil Hamburger, chairman of the MacArthur Gift Fund, Houston Lodge No. 151, BOP Elks:

"You doubtless are familiar with the fact that during General MacArthur's visit to Houston he received as a gift from the Elks and friends a black 7-passenger Cadillac sedan. . . . The purchase of this car at a cost of $5,700.00 was undertaken by members of the Elks and friends, and at the present time we have only raised $1,286.00, and since we are in need of more funds the purpose of this letter is to afford you an opportunity to be listed as a contributor to the Gift Fund. . . . The ownership certificate to the car will be forwarded to General MacArthur along with an appropriate scroll bearing the names of all contributors, and the list of names is being closed out with the amount of $5,700.00 is received."

Rye Speculating
A little more information has leaked out regarding the huge speculation in rye, and the sudden reversal of the Agriculture Department's ban on Canadian rye. An offer of a million dollars was dangled before Ralph Trigg, formerly in charge of all rye purchases, if he would buy Canadian rye. Trigg said no.

However, last spring, after Trigg got out, his policy was reversed and the U. S. government bought up a large quantity of Canadian rye mixed with U. S. rye. It is now learned that two senators pressured the Agriculture Department to bring about this change—Young of North Dakota and McCarthy of Wisconsin, both Republicans. Minnesota's two senators, Humphrey, Democrat, and Thyne, Republican—sat in on one meeting regarding rye. However, they attended at the urging of McCarthy and did nothing more than put in an appearance. Senator Young, who comes from a big rye-producing state, wanted to ban rye imports from Canada altogether. Since Canadian rye was already mixed with American rye in northwest grain elevators, however, Young agreed that the government should buy this Canadian rye in order to reduce the surplus and by banning future rye shipments from Canada, Young hoped to create a better market for American rye farmers.

McCarthy, however, who constantly telephoned and heckled the Agriculture Department to reverse the ban on buying Canadian rye. He not only called on Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to reverse the ban on buying Canadian rye. He also called on the Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to reverse the ban on buying Canadian rye. He also called on the Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to reverse the ban on buying Canadian rye.

McCarthy's intense interest in Canadian rye is a puzzle. Furthermore, the million dollars dangled before Ralph Trigg and the multimillion-dollar corner on the rye market, cooked up by the big speculators, also remains a mystery.

Note—McCarthy has not speculated in the commodity market under his own name since the 1947 Senate investigation of the commodity market. Previously McCarthy had speculated chiefly in butter. After the 1947 investigation, however, McCarthy struck up an interesting friendship with Ralph Moore, the speculating partner of former Senator Thomas of Oklahoma. It is significant that Moore has been associated in the rye market with Dan Rice. One of the biggest speculators in Canadian rye.

Texas Entrances London
Claude Carter of Harlingen, Texas, went to Paris and London this summer to keep a date with Winston Churchill.

Mr. Carter lives down near the Mexican border, a long way from there to London, but some years ago when he was president of the Texas Bar Association, he met and entertained Winston Churchill. So the distinguished Britisher told him that if he ever came to London, he should look him up.

Claude Carter never forgot that invitation, and apparently Mr. Churchill didn't either. For this summer, wearing his broad-brimmed Texas hat in London, Mr. Carter called up the ex-prime minister and was invited to dine at Churchill's club.

Carter tells how he wandered into the writing room, snatched some stationery and wrote his Texas friends from the club of the ex-prime minister.

Later at dinner the guests started discussing which of Churchill's many famous speeches was the greatest. Most agreed that it was the "blood, sweat and tears; fight 'em on the beaches" epic. However, the gentleman from Texas interposed this idea: "Winston," said Mr. Carter, "you made the greatest mistake of your life in that memorable speech. You quoted from many great authorities, including the beloved Kipling. But you missed by a hair's breadth the opportunity to have made the greatest speech in all English history and literature."

"Why?" asked the puzzled Churchill.
"Because you could have quoted from the immortal Shakespeare. You could have used his great line from King John—'This England never did, nor never shall, lie at the proud foot of a conqueror'."

Churchill seemed to like the suggestion, said he wished he had had Carter as his ghost-writer during the war, even indicated that the only people who conceivably might ever conquer England were Texans.

North Dakota's Champion
For years, the big bull voice of Bill Langer, North Dakota's earthy senator, has been bellowing in the chamber demanding that the State Department name an ambassador from his state.

When, a few days ago, Thomas E. Whelan, a slick Dakota business man, was nominated to be U. S. ambassador to Nicaragua, the rangy Langer rose to his feet. Across the aisle, Sen. Bill Benton of Connecticut mildly remarked: "Now that the senator has achieved his victory, I trust he will spare us his daily oration on the ability of North Dakota's citizens. I'm sure we're all familiar with the subject."

With a broad grin, Langer nodded in agreement.

Can't Build Defense And Cut Spending

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today Congress can't provide for a buildup in the free nations' defense strength and cut military spending at the same time.
Connally's comment was made to a reporter in announcing that the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees will go to work Monday on revising the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill.
The House Foreign Affairs Committee has sliced $651,000,000 from the total. Connally, however, said he believes any sizeable reductions made by the Senate committee must come out of the economic aid.

"We have to build up military defenses and we can't cut down on military spending at the same time," he said.

Gambler at Carnival Fined, Last Show Today
The operator of a roll-down game for money at a carnival playing at Spring Lake Park was arrested by state police Friday night on a "common gambler" charge.
Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of the town of Ulster, Frank A. L. claims yesterday against the state of New York. State police said the money in play at the time of arrest was confiscated.

Friday night, according to the carnival's sponsors, brought out a record attendance estimated at 7,000 persons to the new carnival grounds. The carnival closes tonight after the 11 o'clock performance of Sol Solomon, high diver, and will move to the Midtown Fairgrounds, where it will play for a week. It has been a regular feature at the Midtown Fair for 30 years.

Ex-Beauty Queen Sues
Boston, Aug. 11 (AP)—A 38-year-old former beauty contest winner brought a $50,000 suit yesterday against the estate of the late Henry I. Harriman, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, claiming she "devoted" herself to him for 14 years. The suit was brought in Suffolk Superior Court by Miss Alice J. Nelson of Boston who in the early thirties won a contest "for having the most beautiful legs in New England." She is seeking the $50,000 to recover for service in maintaining a home for Harriman and for being his companion, confidant and adviser from October, 1936, until his death at the age of 77 in July, 1950.

Marries Again
El Paso, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP)—Charles Winninger, 67, stage, screen and radio actor, got a divorce and got married yesterday in Juarez, across the Rio Grande in Mexico. Shortly after he got a final divorce decree in a Juarez court from former actress Blanche Ring, 74, Winninger was married in a civil court ceremony to his secretary, Miss Gertrude Walker, 42. Miss Ring, whom Winninger married in 1912, obtained a California preliminary divorce last June 12. She charged he deserted her in 1928.

Manchester, Mass., Aug. 11 (AP)—Miss Nancy Channing, 27, the nation's sixth ranking woman tennis player, said today she and Ralph Kiner, home run hitting Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, will be married at All Saints Chapel, Santa Barbara, Calif., Saturday afternoon, Oct. 13. The 22-year-old Miss Chaffee didn't say definitely she would quit tennis but intimated she could be no more trips to Wimbledon or such places.

Advantage for Vets
Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee yesterday approved a bill to let veterans sue for triple damages if they are gyped in buying a home. The House has passed the bill. Suit may be brought against anyone who knowingly sells a veteran a home "considerably in excess of the reasonable value" as determined by the Veterans Administration.

Two Hurt on Plane
Newark, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—A twin-engine commercial airliner carrying 41 passengers and four crewmen swerved off the runway during a takeoff at Newark Airport today, injuring two of its passengers. The injured were Sophie Berkowitz of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a sailor, Richard Kroll of New York city. They were taken to St. James Hospital here where their condition was reported as fairly good.

Two Philosophies
Bethany, W. Va., Aug. 11 (AP)—The battle between communism and democracy is a continuation of the age-old fight of two philosophies of life, a leading member of the Disciples of Christ said last night. In one philosophy, "man belongs to the state, while the philosophy of freedom holds that a man is an individual with a mind capable of independent thought," declared Alexander Campbell of Fort Wayne, Ind.

STONE RIDGE
The Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Mutterstock of the Methodist parish, Wappingers Falls, left Tuesday for Lake George where they will visit for several days with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Earl and children. They will then go to Walton where they have a cottage on the Delaware river for the month of August. The Rev. Mr. Mutterstock was a former pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Church.

At a meeting of the Methodist Church Board Tuesday night the board selected Francis and Doris Sullivan to be delegates to the National Methodist Family Life Conference to be held in Chicago October 12-14. Present at the board meeting were Francis Sullivan, Mrs. Eugene Trautwein, the Rev. Willet Porter, Jr., Miss Margaret Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Seelye, Walter Dyer, Wilbert Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Koenig and Lanson Rhinehart.

Tax Lien Against Reds
New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—A $1,764 federal tax lien against the Civil Rights Congress, "bail angel" for accused Communists, has tied up $376,000 in bonds posted for the Red defendants. The tax lien was filed yesterday by the collector of internal revenue for alleged non-payment of taxes on the last two quarters of 1950 and the second quarter of 1951. Included in the lien was $1,675 for allegedly-due employees' income withholding and Social Security taxes. The balance was for interest and a penalty.

TV Testimony Deal Up for Court Test

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The right of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee to require witnesses to testify in televised hearings is headed for a possible test in the criminal courts.
By a 38 to 13 vote the Senate yesterday stuck to its citations accusing two Cleveland, Ohio, witnesses of contempt of Congress for refusing to testify last March 26 at crime committee hearings. The hearings were covered by television, newsreels and radio as well as the press.

The committee plans to televise hearings here next week exploring New York underworld activities. A frequently bitter five-hour debate preceded the vote sustaining contempt citations against Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, described by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) as a member of "one of the largest and most sinister criminal gangs in the United States."

Kleinman and Rothkopf refused to talk because they said their constitutional rights were violated by TV, newsreel and radio broadcasting of the hearings.

The Senate's vote sustained contempt citations originally voted against the two men on March 30. The citations go now to the U. S. district attorney for submission to a federal grand jury. The witnesses' complaints against TV might figure in any grand jury decision. Conviction of contempt of Congress is punishable by up to a year in jail and $1,000 in fines.

The televised crime hearings were smash hits on television, viewed at times by more than 20,000,000 persons.

Congressmen Oppose Spreading Out Plants
Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Members of Congress from established industrial areas bitterly protested today against President Truman's new plant dispersal policy.

Mr. Truman's aim is to spread out the nation's industrial plants to make them less vulnerable to any enemy atomic attacks. But opponents argue the dispersal will hobble rather than help defense preparedness by draining vitality from existing industrial regions and forcing costly population shifts.

The administration has powerful means to enforce the dispersal policy—award of defense contracts, granting of defense loans, allocation of critical materials and other measures.

As announced by Mr. Truman yesterday, the policy is to disperse new industry and expanding industry but not to interfere with established operating units.

Cabinet Favored
Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven and his new strongly Conservative cabinet won what amounted to a vote of confidence today. The National Assembly voted 390-222 to postpone indefinitely an opposition request to debate the make-up of the cabinet. Pleven had presented his cabinet to President Vincent Auriol earlier after an all-night squabble over who would get what job. France's worst cabinet crisis since World War 2 ended when Pleven finally succeeded in forming a cabinet after seven other men had tried and failed in the past 30 days. How long it could stay in office was doubtful.

Mother Returns Home
Shamokin, Pa., Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ellen Kopko, 27-year-old mother of three young children, arrived home early today after spending a full day in a Youngstown, O., jail for speeding 70 miles an hour. "I think they gave me a very raw deal," she said. Her three children, Timothy, six; William, four; and David, 17 months, were turned over to county officials in Youngstown when Mrs. Kopko was sentenced to five days in jail. The children came home with her.

Marcus Bassett Dies
New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Marcus (Jack) Bassett, 51, whose nine-month career of crime with Willie (The Actor) Sutton made blazing headlines in 1930, died yesterday in Brooklyn, broke and on relief. Bassett, teamed with Sutton after serving a 10-year stretch in Sing Sing Prison for robbery. As "messenger boy bandits"—they were messenger uniforms—the pair knocked off several shops, a bank, and jewelry stores.

Early Is Critical
Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Stephen T. Early, for eight years President Roosevelt's press secretary, was in critical condition today at a Washington hospital. Yesterday morning, the 61-year-old Early was reported improving after suffering a heart attack last Tuesday but he took a turn for the worse last night and an attending physician described his condition as critical.

Jay Pearsall Dies
Westfield, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—Jay Herbert Pearsall, 80, descendant of an early American family, died last night at Gainesville, Fla., relatives here learned today. Pearsall, a native of Brooklyn, lived in Westfield from 1888 to 1926. When he retired and moved to Melrose, Fla., his present home. He headed the Pearsall News Bureau in New York, and was a member of the New York Produce Exchange.

Rail Rates to Jump
Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Higher railroad freight rates on everything but grain and grain products will probably go into effect Aug. 28. The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized a 3 to 5 percent increase in rates on most rail freight rates of nine percent east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and six percent elsewhere.

9W Accident . . .
The trailer part struck the right front and hood of an automobile driven by Donohoe W. Lynch, 30, of Sheldon, Conn.

Town Truck Hit
The two ton truck which was first struck by the tractor-trailer was owned by the town of Esopus and driven by Joseph Holstein, 63, of Ulster Park, state police said.

The roadway was wet and it was raining at the time of the accident, the trooper said. No arrest was made.

Funeral services for Earl Arthur Strong will be held from Hedges Memorial Chapel in Rochester at a time to be announced. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Elmira.

Police said they found a dusty, thick portfolio containing portraits on property the sisters owned in Jersey City and elsewhere in Hudson county. Gold certificates, jewelry and gold coins also were found.

Clara had been under treatment for cancer of the stomach until last June when she refused further medical attention.

Offers Free Work Day
Houghton Lake, Mich., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Hudson Impression Die Co. has offered to give the government a day's work free each week. Andrew J. Hudson, president of the firm formed eight months ago, said yesterday he had made the offer to President Truman "with no strings attached."

He said workers would contribute a day's work and the company would furnish materials and forego any profit on the "free day."

Fewer Concerns
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Fewer new business corporations are being chartered in New York state this year. Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran reported today that 1,405 firms were chartered during July, raising the year's total to 12,457. It was 15,004 a year ago.

Special Catholic Mass Scheduled August 15

Vatican City, Aug. 11 (AP)—For the first time since Pope Pius proclaimed the Dogma of the Assumption into heaven of the Virgin Mary, a special Mass honoring her will be celebrated in Catholic churches throughout the world Aug. 15—feast day of the Assumption.

Proclamation of the Assumption Dogma Nov. 1, 1950, was the highlight of the 25th Holy Year of the Catholic church.

The new Mass contains a special liturgy praising the Virgin Mother of Jesus Christ.

For centuries Catholics have generally observed the feast day of the Assumption and believed in her bodily as well as spiritual assumption into heaven. Proclamation of the Dogma, however, made belief in her assumption a tenet of Catholic faith, requiring all Catholics to believe it.

Marine Rescue

Southern that operated both trains, said the troop train's crew ignored an order to side track their train for the streamliner.

"Just why the crew of the troop train failed to switch to the side track is something we may never know since most of those who might be able to give some reason are already dead," Sutter said.

More than 50 persons, 26 of them marines, were hospitalized. The crash occurred on a double bend in the flat cotton and timber country northwest of Baton Rouge, a bend so sharp that neither train crew could have seen the other train until almost the moment of the collision. One engineer leaped from his cab but was killed when his careening engine toppled over on him.

The troop train was en route from Camp Lejeune, N. C., to San Diego, Calif. A marine identified the troops as the First Marine Anti-Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion.

pete at State Fair. (The county's quota is two contestants.) Others may compete for ribbons.

Competitors are required to drive a tractor from a standing position to a piece of farm machinery; dismount and hook on the draw bar (special attention is paid to using the safety pin); drive through a course marked by obstacles, and back in a space without knocking down the obstacles. The race is timed and the person to complete the course properly in the shortest time is the winner.

Contestants compete in two groups—those between 10 and 14 years of age, and those 14 and over.

Jacob DeWitt of Whitfield is in charge of the tractor operation contest. Also instrumental in setting up plans for tractor work among county youngsters were Edmund R. Bower, county 4-H Club agent, and Harry J. Beatty.

Safety and care is stressed in the tractor program, to insure a long life for both the tractor and its operator.

Can't Build Defense And Cut Spending

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today Congress can't provide for a buildup in the free nations' defense strength and cut military spending at the same time.

Connally's comment was made to a reporter in announcing that the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees will go to work Monday on revising the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has sliced $651,000,000 from the total. Connally, however, said he believes any sizeable reductions made by the Senate committee must come out of the economic aid.

"We have to build up military defenses and we can't cut down on military spending at the same time," he said.

Gambler at Carnival Fined, Last Show Today

The operator of a roll-down game for money at a carnival playing at Spring Lake Park was arrested by state police Friday night on a "common gambler" charge.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Allen Bartley, 38, of Stanton, Va., pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $10. State police said the money in play at the time of arrest was confiscated.

Friday night, according to the carnival sponsors, brought out a record attendance estimated at 7,000 persons to the new carnival grounds. The carnival closes tonight after the 11 o'clock performance of Sol Solomon, high diver, and will move to the Middletown Fairgrounds, where it will play for 30 days.

Ex-Beauty Queen Sues
Boston, Aug. 11 (AP)—A 38-year-old former beauty contest winner brought a $500,000 suit yesterday against the estate of the late Henry I. Harriman, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, claiming she "devoted" herself to him for 14 years. The suit was brought in Suffolk Superior Court by Miss Alice J. Nelson of Boston who in the early thirties won a contest "for having the most beautiful legs in New England." He claims she is seeking the $500,000 to recover for service in maintaining a home for him and for being his companion, confidant and adviser from October, 1936, until his death at the age of 77 in July, 1950.

Marries Again

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 11 (AP)—Charles Winninger, 67, stage, screen and radio actor, got a divorce and got married yesterday in Juarez, across the Rio Grande in Mexico. Shortly after he got a final divorce decree in a Juarez court from a former actress Blanche Ring, 74, Winninger was married in a civil court ceremony to his secretary, Miss Gertrude Walker, 42. Miss Ring, whom Winninger married in 1912, obtained a California preliminary divorce last June 12. She charged he deserted her in 1928.

Kiner Engaged

Manchester, Mass., Aug. 11 (AP)—Miss Nancy Chaffee, the nation's sixth ranking woman tennis player, said today she and Ralph Kiner, home run hitting Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, will be married at All Saints Chapel, Santa Barbara, Calif., Saturday afternoon, Oct. 13. The 22-year-old Miss Chaffee didn't say definitely she would quit tennis but intimated there would be no more trips to Wimbledon or such places.

Advantage for Vets

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee yesterday approved a bill to let veterans sue for triple damages if they are gyped in buying a home. The House has passed the bill. Suit may be brought against anyone who knowingly sells a veteran a home "considerably in excess of the reasonable value" as determined by the Veterans Administration.

Two Hurt on Plane

Newark, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—A twin-engine commercial airliner carrying 41 passengers and four crewmen swerved off the runway during a takeoff at Newark Airport today, injuring two of its passengers. The injured were Sophie Berkowitz, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a sailor, Richard Knoll of New York City. They were taken to St. James Hospital here where their condition was reported as fairly good.

Miss Mary Ann Leahy of Kingston is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joy at their home on Hallahan's Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Joy and family, James Wynn, Sr., and son James, Jr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Horace Brown and family in Kingston Wednesday night. Samuel Hull has returned to his employment in Kingston after having been at home several months with a back injury. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Parsons and family, of Mineola, L. I., arrived at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gerdis home, in upper Sawkill Wednesday. They have been touring the midwestern states including Kansas and Missouri, and also visited Niagara Falls. They will be here for the rest of August.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sehrr of West Hurley were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joy and Mrs. Francis Joy and family, on Hallahan's Hill Thursday.

STONE RIDGE

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Mutterstock of the Methodist parish, Wappingers Falls, left Tuesday for Lake George where they will visit for several days with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Earl and children. They will then go to Walton where they have a cottage on the Delaware river for the month of August. The Rev. Mr. Mutterstock was a former pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Church.

At a meeting of the Methodist Church Board Tuesday night the board selected Francis and Doris Sullivan to be delegates to the National Methodist Family Conference to be held in Chicago October 12-14. Present at the board meeting were Francis Sullivan, Mrs. Eugene Trautwein, Rev. Willet Porter, Jr., Miss Margaret Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Walter Dyer, Albert Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Koenig and Lanson Rhinehart.

Tax Lien Against Reds

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—A $1,764 federal tax lien against the late Francis X. Sullivan, "bail angel" for accused Communists, has tied up $376,000 in bonds posted for the Red defendants. The tax lien was filed yesterday by the collector of internal revenue for alleged non-payment of taxes on the last two quarters of 1950 and the second quarter of 1951. Included in the lien was $1,675 for allegedly due employees' income withholding and Social Security taxes. The balance was for interest and a penalty.

TV Testimony Deal Up for Court Test

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The right of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee to require witnesses to testify in televised hearings is headed for a possible test in the criminal courts.

By a 38 to 13 vote the Senate yesterday stuck to its citations accusing two Cleveland, Ohio, witnesses of contempt of Congress for refusing to testify last March 26 at crime committee hearings. The hearings were covered by television, newsreels and radio as well as the press.

The committee plans to televise hearings here next week exploring New York underworld activities. A frequently bitter five-hour debate preceded the vote sustaining contempt citations against Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, described by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) as a member of "one of the largest and most sinister criminal gangs in the United States."

Kleinman and Rothkopf refused to talk because they said, their constitutional rights were violated by TV, newsreel and radio broadcasting of the hearings.

The Senate's vote sustained contempt citations originally voted against the two men on March 30. The citations go now to the U. S. district attorney for submission to a federal grand jury. The witnesses' complaints against TV might figure in any grand jury decision. Conviction of contempt of Congress is punishable by up to a year in jail and $1,000 in fines. The televised crime hearings were smash hits on television, viewed at times by more than 20,000,000 persons.

Congressmen Oppose Spreading Out Plants

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Members of Congress from established industrial areas bitterly protested today against President Truman's new plant dispersal policy.

Mr. Truman's aim is to spread out the nation's industrial plants to make them less vulnerable to any enemy atomic attacks. But opponents argue the dispersal will hobble rather than help defense preparedness by draining vitality from existing industrial regions and forcing costly population shifts.

The administration has powerful means to enforce the dispersal policy—award of defense contracts, granting of defense loans, allocation of critical materials and other measures.

As announced by Mr. Truman yesterday, the policy is to disperse new industry and expanding industry but not to interfere with established operating units.

Cabinet Favored

Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven and his new strongly Conservative cabinet won what amounted to a vote of confidence today. The National Assembly balloted 390-222 in opposition to a cabinet after seven other men had tried and failed in the past 30 days. How long it could stay in office was doubtful.

Mother Returns Home

Shamokin, Pa., Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ellen Kopko, 27-year-old mother of three young children, arrived home early today after spending a full day in a Youngstown, O., jail for speeding 10 miles an hour. "I think they gave me a very raw deal," she said. Her three children—Timothy, six; William, four, and David, 17 months—were turned over to county officials in Youngstown when Mrs. Kopko was sentenced to five days in jail. The children came home with her.

Marcus Bassett Dies

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Marcus (Jack) Bassett, 51, whose nine-month career in show business with Willie (The Actor) Sutton made blazing headlines in 1930, died yesterday in Brooklyn, broke and on relief. Bassett teamed with Sutton after serving a 10-year stretch in Sing Sing Prison for robbery. As "messenger boy bandits"—they wore messenger uniforms—the pair knocked off department stores, a bank, and jewelry stores.

Early Is Critical

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Stephen T. Early, for eight years President Roosevelt's press secretary, was in critical condition today at a Washington hospital. Yesterday morning, the 61-year-old Early was reported improving after suffering a heart attack last Tuesday but he took a turn for the worse last night and an attending physician described his condition as critical.

Jay Pearsall Dies

Westfield, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—Jay Herbert Pearsall, 80, descendant of an early American family, died last night at Gainesville, Fla., relatives here learned today. Pearsall, a native of Brooklyn, lived in Westfield from 1888 to 1926. When he retired and moved to Melrose, Fla., his present home. He headed the Pearsall News Bureau in New York, and was a member of the New York Produce Exchange.

Rail Rates to Jump

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Higher railroad freight rates on everything but grain and grain products will probably go into effect Aug. 28. The Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) today authorized a boost in most rail freight rates of nine per cent east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and six per cent elsewhere.

Police said they found a dusty, thick portfolio containing mortgages on property the sisters owned in Jersey City and elsewhere in Hudson county. Gold certificates, jewelry and gold coins also were found.

Clara had been under treatment for cancer of the stomach until last June when she refused further medical attention.

Offers Free Work Day

Houghton Lake, Mich., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Hudson Impression Die Co. has offered to give the government a day's work free each week. Andrew J. Hudson, president of the firm formed eight months ago, said yesterday he had made the offer to President Truman "with no strings attached." He said workmen would contribute a day's work and the company would furnish materials and forego any profit on the "free day."

Fewer Concerns

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Fewer new business corporations are being chartered in New York state this year. Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran reported today that 1,405 firms were chartered during July, raising the year's total to 12,457. It was 15,004 a year ago.

Special Catholic Mass Scheduled August 15

Vatican City, Aug. 11 (AP)—For the first time since Pope Pius proclaimed the Dogma of the Assumption into heaven of the Virgin Mary, a special Mass honoring her will be celebrated in the Catholic churches throughout the world Aug. 15—feast day of the Assumption.

The new Mass contains a special liturgy praising the Virgin Mother of Jesus Christ.

For centuries Catholics have generally observed the feast day of the Assumption and believed in her bodily as well as spiritual assumption into heaven. Proclamation of the Dogma, however, made belief in her assumption a tenet of Catholic faith, requiring all Catholics to believe it.

Proclamation of the Assumption Dogma Nov. 1, 1950, was the highlight of the 25th Holy Year of the Catholic church.

What Money Won't Buy
Faith or courage.
Nor the love for a fatherland.
It won't buy the laugh of a baby's face.
Nor the caress of a mother's hand.
It won't buy the love of a woman.
Nor the song of the nightingale.
It won't buy a true and loyal friend.

Nor the wag of a little dog's tail.
It won't buy the joy of duty done.
Nor the peace when you come to die.
The best things that life has to offer money won't buy.

Oneonta Sweeps Series From Colonials, 8 to 4

Club Returns To Stadium Monday Night

Week-end Games Scheduled in Rome

The Colonials pull out of the beautiful little town of Oneonta around noon today and head for Rome for a two-game series. And they leave behind them something of a nightmare.

After they grapple with Buck Etchison's Colonials for a couple of days they swing southward for municipal stadium where they engage the Amsterdam Rugmakers in single games on Monday and Tuesday.

Oneonta swept a three-game series from Kingston for the second straight time last night, 8 to 4, as Joe Ross pitched his 16th victory of the season.

Rick Ostrander, a two-hit performer the last time out, permitted only eight hits but the Red Sox cashed in on a pair of timely extra baseknocks in the third and fourth innings for three-run rallies.

Sam Smacks Two

Big Sam Placentino maintained his new batting surge with a pair of singles, while Gene Zubrinski and Johnny DiFresco each hit safely twice.

Zubrinski singled Nick Marino home in the third to put Kingston ahead, 1-0, and Manager Sosh's tossers picked up a trio in the seventh on singles by Rick Ostrander, DiFresco, Zubrinski, a walk and a long fly.

Archie Getgen, Oneonta third sacker, proved troublesome for Ostrander, nicking him for a double and triple and three RBIs.

Gloversville pushed Pittsfield 5 1/2 lengths behind the pace setting Amsterdam Rugmakers on Al Barkus' two-hit, 4 to 1 victory over the Electric.

Barkus had a one-hit shutout until outfielder Lou Palmisano pounded a homer. Barkus fanned three and walked none. The third-pitcher Glovers got their runs by bunting singles.

At Rome, Colonel outfielder Forrest Samson opened the seven-hit barrage against the Rugmakers by slamming a homer with two on as the Glovers went on to win, 10 to 1. It was Samson's 13th for the season. Bernie Kburis was credited with the win, his eighth of the campaign.

Rome blasted Amsterdam's Lefty Dick Marshall from the mound in the second inning. Lou Paz pitched three-hit ball for the rest of the distance.

Pennants are won by clutch hitters like Cleveland's Al Rosen and New York's Johnny Mize. Because these two long ball hitters came through under pressure the Indians and Yanks are still tied for the American League lead.

Rosen smashed a two-run homer with the score tied to give Cleveland a 6-4 shade over the stubborn Chicago White Sox last night. Mize hit a homer and drove in two runs for the Yanks' 3-1 margin over Philadelphia.

As a result the Indians and Yanks remain in an exact 67-59 tie with seven weeks to go. Boston, a 6-4 winner over Washington, is still 4 1/2 lengths back and Chicago was dropped eight games behind.

Out of the pennant race but very much in the running for most valuable player is Ned Garver of St. Louis whose 14th victory was a neat 4-2 job on Detroit. Just to make it sure, Garver came up with four hits, including a double.

Rain washed out most of the first division action in the National last night, postponing the Boston at Brooklyn and Philadelphia at New York games. St. Louis nipped Cincinnati, 4-3, in 10 innings on pitcher Gerry Staley's single with the bases loaded and two out. In the afternoon Mel Queen of Pittsburgh shut out Chicago, 3-0, for his first victory since May 13.

This man Rosen of the Indians doesn't waste many homers. Fourteen of his 18 came in winning games. Three were wasted in losses. The other helped the Tribe to a tie.

Chicago, which has been rough on Cleveland all season, piled up an early lead off Bob Lemon but Kenny Holcombe couldn't hold it. He yielded two in the fifth and four in the seventh with Rosen's clutch capping the rally. Randy Gumpert came in to lock the door after the horse was stolen. Lemon went the route for his 13th win.

Mize backed up Ed Lopat's steady six-hit pitching to hang a seventh loss on Sad Sam Soldak. Gil McDougald's triple and Bobby Brown's single produced the first run in the third. After Mize homered in the sixth, the A's came back with one. The Yanks added their insurance run in the eighth on singles by Yogi Berra and Joe DiMaggio and Mize's run-scoring liner to Al Clark.

Block Park, home of champions, has cradled another baseball pennant winner.

The park Pee Wees, 13 years and under, took first place in the Park League for a record of 10 wins and 2 defeats.

A phenomenal team batting average carried the team to the championship. Jack Houghtaling was the star with a rousing .621, while Charlie Diers batted .560 and Bob Mannello and Frankie Fisher each had .500.

Four players—Al Wood, Richie Amato, Jack Houghtaling and Jack Redmond—compiled perfect fielding averages.

The extra base department showed: home runs, Diers, Houghtaling, Hamilton, one each; triples—Hamilton, 3; Woods, Houghtaling, 2; doubles—Diers 6, Houghtaling 6, Woods 4, Mannello 3.

The batting averages:

AB	H	Avg.
Jack Houghtaling	29	.621
Charlie Diers	25	.560
Bob Mannello	28	.500
Frankie Fisher	10	.500
Junie Hamilton	28	.464
Jim Woods	33	.424
Richie Amato	23	.348
Bill Gully	24	.345
Jack Cuddeback	12	.083
Al Wood	14	.071
Jim Leonardo	16	.106

Madrid—Luis De Santiago, Madrid, knocked out Ray Lewis, Honolulu, 4.

Hole-In-'1' Tournament Sunday; Thirty-Six in Herdegen Opener

Ulster county golfers face the heaviest week-end schedule in local history today and Sunday, with the third annual Freeman Hole-In-One tournament set for Sunday from 8 a. m. to 12 noon at Twaalfskill Golf Club.

The hole-in-one competition will be staged on the specially-constructed hole from the practice tee near the Twaalfskill clubhouse to the No. 9 green.

This is a beautiful drop shot, with the pin set behind the trap. About 165 yards on the ground, the shot will call for everything from 4 to 9 irons for men and woods for women players.

Each player receives four shots. The Freeman furnishes the balls. Trophies will be awarded to the first place winner in the men's and women's division.

Herdegen Tourney
Play in the first annual Father Herdegen Memorial tournament was scheduled to get under way at 12:30 today at Twaalfskill. The action moves to Wiltwyck Golf Club on Sunday at 1 p. m., with the final 18 holes carded for the Woodstock Country Club on Sunday, Aug. 19.

The two photos show (1) just about the size of the flag on the No. 9 green as it will look to the average golfer when he steps up to take his four swings.

Lower photo gives you an idea of the various kinds of golf equipment that will be thrown against the Dunlop Green Maxfli, the official ball for the Freeman hole-in-one tourney.

The balls were furnished by the "Dunlop Rubber Company, manufacturers of the famous Maxfli ball.

The Maxfli golf balls are sold to golf professionals only and represent the outstanding golf balls of the day. The Dunlop green, which will be used in the Hole-in-One has the finest combination of distance and durability.

Thirty six players were scheduled to tee off in the Father Herdegen Memorial.

Between 150 and 175 golfers from all parts of Ulster county are expected to compete in the Freeman competition. Entries have been received from Saugerties, Woodstock, Lake Mohonk, Ellenville and both local clubs.

Three of four former winners will be in the field—Sally Russell, of Saugerties, 1950 ladies' winner; James A. Dwyer, 1949 men's winner with a shot of 2 feet 2 inches and Joe Kwasney, the 1950 men's champ with a 2 1/2-foot shot.

Mrs. Charles E. Burnett, 1949 ladies' kingpin, is away on vacation.

Alex. Gerlak, Twaalfskill pro, and his staff have done an excellent job on the tee, having installed fresh, new sod and raised the elevation about six inches. This will make for a more interesting shot.

All entries are reminded that the tourney starts at 8 a. m. and openings are available on the first hour for those who wish to get an earlier start.

Demaret Paces All-American

Chicago, Aug. 11 (AP)—Jimmy Demaret, fashion plate of the fairways with just $4,200 tournament money earned this year, today had drawn a halfway bead on golf's biggest loot, the $12,500 top prize in the $56,000 "world" championship tourney.

The 41-year-old Demaret from Ojai, Calif., who sports a new, gay costume every tee-off, was a one-stroke leader at eight-under-par 136 as the "world" shifted into its third 18-hole round at Tam O'Shanter course.

Jimmy had two tough customers snapping at his heels, U. S. Open champion Ben Hogan and big, bustling Clayton Heafner, both tied at 137.

And just two strokes behind Demaret, knotted at 138, whooped six clever clouters—Johnny Palmer, Bob Hamilton, Lawson Little, Herman Barron, Ed Furgol and Al Brosch.

But the field of 64 pros and 10 amateurs may find Demaret not so much a laughing boy in this one. For one thing, he doesn't want to let down his pet, 16-year-old daughter, Peggy, a star-eyed follower of Jimmy on his three-under-par 69 yesterday. And another thing, Demaret hasn't done too well lately, his best 1951 effort being a fourth in the Canadian Open.

Drop Mulloy
From Cup Squad

Newport, R. I., Aug. 11 (AP)—For the first time since Davis Cup tennis competition was resumed after World War 2, Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., has been by-passed by the U. S. team's selectors.

And the 37-year-old veteran frankly admits he feels slighted and intends to show Capt. Frank Shields a mistake was made. He says he hopes to show Shields the error of his ways when he meets Frank Sedgman, Australia's outstanding player, in the semi-final round of the Newport Casino singles today.

"I've played Sedgman once and beat him," Mulloy said. "It was a year ago in the London championship tournament at Queens."

The Casino's other semi-finals, the doubles included, also will have American-Australian casts. Mulloy, beaten by partner Talbert in last week's Eastern Grass Courts final at South Orange, N. J., pulled out an easy 6-3, 6-1, 6-3 win over Sidney Schwartz of Brooklyn, in his Casino quarter-finals match.

Sedgman subjected Seixas to his first 1951 setback by 6-3, 6-4, 7-5 margins.

CYO Champs Play
Manhattan Team
Monday Afternoon

Members of the St. Mary's baseball club of Kingston, Catholic Youth Organization champions of the upper Hudson Valley area, will leave for their semi-final game in Staten Island Monday at 8 a. m. from the St. Mary's school hall, it was announced this morning.

The local CYO representatives will meet the lower Manhattan champs at Clove Lake Park, S. I., Monday at 2 p. m. in the semi-finals of the competition.

St. Mary's advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Wappingers Falls of Dutchess county in an earlier game by 3 to 2.

Norwalk Invites Clark as Resident

Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Bridgeport Post says Harvey E. Clark, Jr., is going to make his home in Norwalk, but not until he sees things through back in Cicero, Ill.—where his home was stoned, set on fire and wrecked.

Clark, a 28-year-old Negro, had moved into an all-white neighborhood in Cicero with his wife and two children. Race rioting and destruction followed, which finally required intervention by the National Guard.

The Chicago bus driver and his family were special guests here Thursday when Norwalk observed United Nations Day, part of its week-long 300th anniversary celebration.

Clark was invited by city officials to make his home here, wavered, but finally decided yesterday he would become a Norwalk resident, the Post said.

"But there are things I must see through back in Cicero," Clark was quoted as saying. "After that is finished, Norwalk here I come."

Among the things he must attend to is a $200,000 damage suit he has filed in a federal district court against Cicero's municipal officials. There also is talk of a grand jury investigation of the race disorders precipitated by his attempt to live in the Chicago suburb, Clark presumably would be a principal witness.

Photographer Dies
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Herbert K. White, 43, an Associated Press photographer from Washington, D. C., died last night at a local amusement park. He and his family were vacationing here. His brother-in-law, Earl J. Gosnell of Rochester said White suffered a heart attack as he prepared to drive the family home.

Goshen Finale
Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Grand Circuit ends its 1951 stand in Goshen today with the A. H. F. Seeger Memorial for three-year-old trotters headlining the card. The "roaring grand" shifts to Springfield, Ill., next week. Star's Bridge, owned by E. Roland Harriman and Lawrence B. Sheppard won the $5,400 Trotting Derby in straight heats yesterday.

Freddy Hawk Wins
Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Freddie Hawk captured the Klamath pace for junior free-for-all horses at Roosevelt Raceway last night with a nose victory over Bernard Hanover in a three-horse blanket finish as Dale Brewer took third. Winning his eighth race in 10 starts, and his first at Roosevelt the five-year-old bay gelding owned by Parker Mitchell, of Perryman, Md., returned $20.10, $9.00 and $5.90.

Norwalk Invites Clark as Resident

Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Bridgeport Post says Harvey E. Clark, Jr., is going to make his home in Norwalk, but not until he sees things through back in Cicero, Ill.—where his home was stoned, set on fire and wrecked.

Clark, a 28-year-old Negro, had moved into an all-white neighborhood in Cicero with his wife and two children. Race rioting and destruction followed, which finally required intervention by the National Guard.

The Chicago bus driver and his family were special guests here Thursday when Norwalk observed United Nations Day, part of its week-long 300th anniversary celebration.

Clark was invited by city officials to make his home here, wavered, but finally decided yesterday he would become a Norwalk resident, the Post said.

"But there are things I must see through back in Cicero," Clark was quoted as saying. "After that is finished, Norwalk here I come."

Among the things he must attend to is a $200,000 damage suit he has filed in a federal district court against Cicero's municipal officials. There also is talk of a grand jury investigation of the race disorders precipitated by his attempt to live in the Chicago suburb. Clark presumably would be a principal witness.

Photographer Dies
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Herbert K. White, 43, an Associated Press photographer from Washington, D. C., died last night at a local amusement park. He and his family were vacationing here. His brother-in-law, Earl J. Gosnell of Rochester said White suffered a heart attack as he prepared to drive the family home.

Jury Has Case
Los Angeles, Aug. 11 (AP)—A jury has started deliberations in the $200,000 slander suit brought by playwright Emmet Lavery against actress Ginger Rogers' mother, Mrs. Lela Rogers, and seven other defendants. Lavery alleged that Mrs. Rogers so slandered his play "The Gentleman From Athens" during a radio debate that it failed on Broadway.

Grange News

Pine Bush Unit

Tickets and posters for the first annual clam bake to be held at the Grange Hall, Saturday, Sept. 8, were distributed at this week's Pine Bush Grange meeting. Alan Detch of Bullville will be the bake master. The bake will start at 6:30 p. m.

Also discussed was the annual Harvest Fair tentatively set for the second Saturday in September with Sol Louis as committee chairman. Plans for a monthly card party, as suggested by Grenald Warn, assistant steward, received general approval. The literary program consisted of information on what to do in your garden in August, Mrs. Norma Jones, lecturer, read a humorous discourse on Man and Woman contributed by Chaplain Mrs. Minnie DeWitt. Grangers also were told about the 12 birthstones, their meanings and the flower of each month. The program closed with the singing of May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You led by the lecturer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Angie Aldrich, treasurer of the Grange; Mrs. Carolyn Bender, juvenile matron; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Balbach. The next regular meeting will be held Friday, September 7, when there will be a rally and roll call of all members. There will be no meeting of the Grange on August 20. The Grange ladies will assist in serving refreshments for the GLF meeting to be held at the Grange Hall that night.

Ask Beef Changes
Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Retail meat dealers want the ceiling prices of hamburger, chuck, round steaks and beef roasts raised, and ceilings lowered on sirloin steak, and rib and loin roasts. The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) is reviewing the entire beef program. OPS officials said yesterday the retail meat dealers want hamburger prices raised three or four cents and suggested a perhaps "substantially" lower price for sirloin steak.

After Drinking Parents
Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 10 (AP)—Mayor Robert Moses ordered some municipal comforts today for the little folks outside the swinging doors. Some children, he reported, have been waiting outside taverns as late as 2 a. m. for their beer-drinking parents. He ordered police to make the children comfortable in the city hall. And for the parents, severe reprimands or neglect charges.

Sutphen Reward
Sheffield, Mass., Aug. 11 (AP)—Earle C. Sutphen, a New York Salesman, today posted a $1,000 reward for the return, dead or alive, of his son, Earle, Jr., 18, missing in woods of Taconic State Park since last Tuesday. Search for the youth has continued from dawn to dark each day since the disappearance.

July Rainfall Is Above Average

July rainfall in the city was 4.03 inches above the 15-year average, the city engineer's office reported today. The month's total was 4.25 inches as compared to 2.96 inches in July, 1950, and it brought the total to date this year to 27.90 inches which is 4.57 above the 15-year average for the same period. The August rainfall to date is .74 of an inch. July had 13 days of 90 and above temperatures and the high for the month was the 98 degrees on July 16. The coolest afternoon temperature was 79 degrees on both July 1 and 20. The record overnight low for the month was 56 degrees on July 21.

Disobey Church, Still Look for Virgin Visit

Bamberg, Germany, Aug. 10 (AP)—Archbishop Josef Otto Kolb has announced a papal decree temporarily barring from Holy Communion in the Roman Catholic Church the seven teen-age girls who claim they saw a vision of the Virgin Mary near here. Kolb, archbishop of Bamberg, announced in the local diocesan Gazette yesterday that the children were excluded from communion "for the duration of their disobedience" to church orders. The announcement did not elaborate. Reports said the children had continued to visit a wooded hill-top near Heroldsbach, where they claim they first saw the vision in 1949, despite a ruling last week by the Congregation of the Holy Office in the Vatican that the vision was false.

The reported vision attracted thousands of German Catholics to the farm hamlet of Heroldsbach during the brief time the children—between the ages of 12 and 14—said they saw a vision of the Virgin Mary "dressed in white clothing and carrying a black Rosary."

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, Aug. 10—The first annual water carnival at the community pool was held last Saturday afternoon and proved a most enjoyable occasion, both for those who participated and for about 300 spectators. There were nine events, including 25 yard, 50 yard, and 75 yard races; a relay race and diving stunts. A water ballet was staged by Patricia Butler, Patricia Creter, Myrna Donaldson, Agnes Gallagher, Lucille Grad, Jayne Herdley, Helene Katz, Phyllene Levine, Dawn Roberts and Sylvia Steinhof. A comedy skit was put on by Douglas Knab and Bill Schaeffer, swimming instructors at the pool, and swimming demonstration was given by an intermediate class of 20 children.

At the regular meeting of the village board of trustees held Monday night at the municipal building, routine matters were discussed and acted upon. The chief subject for discussion was the matter of standardizing water rates for certain types of business places. It was brought out that 12 garages pay for water by meter and eight on a flat rate; that of 25 places which serve food, eight are on meters and 17 were not metered. It was claimed that those places which are on meters pay more than the others; that if all such businesses were on meters a great deal of water would be saved and there would be increased revenue for the village.

The annual observance of V-J Day will take place next Tuesday night under the direction of the Veterans Council. There will be a short parade, starting at 7 o'clock at the Legion Home, to be followed by services at Liberty Square. All organizations wishing to take part in the parade will be welcome, it was pointed out by R. Earl Haley of the Veterans Service Agency. Among the non-veteran groups expected to march is a contingent of guards from the Napanoch Institution, who will be accompanied by the Port Jervis Drum Corps.

Metor collections for the week ending Tuesday amounted to $261.30. Of this total, $124.44 was collected during the early part of the week and the remaining $236.91, over the week-end.

The State Traffic Commission has turned down a request for a traffic signal in Napanoch at the intersection of the road leading to the institution and Route 209.

Major Thomas J. Hanlon, I.D.D., superintendent of the Department of Public Works to replace the existing intersection signs on Route 209 with modern reflector-type signs and other signs governing speed at the intersection.

A car, said to have been stolen in Sullivan county, was spotted by a Napanoch resident last Friday. He phoned local police that it had been left on a side road early that morning. Chief Porter checked with Wurtsboro troopers and they later recovered the car.

Mrs. Herbert Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Kile, has accepted a position as physical education instructor at the Home Central School for the coming year. Mrs. Koster was a June graduate at Cortland State Teachers College.
